LIFE AND CONVERSION OF A KENTUCKY INFIDEL

Former title, "From Infidelity to Christianity." By Willis M. Brown.

The wonderful power of God to save from deep-rooted sins is convincingly displayed in this volume.

Drunkenness was the besetting sin that made this man's life a burden to himself and a reproach to his friends. He tells, in his own words, a variety of early experiences in sin and infidelity, and how he was finally converted and called to the ministry.

He was especially used of God to heal the sick and afflicted, and he relates numerous cases in which the devil was defeated to the glory of God.

This book is well worth reading, especially by those who are afflicted, as it shows how to grasp the promises of healing, how to resist the devil and keep the victory. It will be read with an increase of faith.

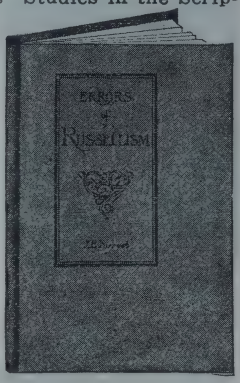
ERRORS OF RUSSELLISM

By J. E. Forrest

Are you acquainted with the teachings of the Millennial Dawn? Do you know that Pastor Russell in his "Studies in the Scriptures" has assailed almost every fundamental doctrine of the Bible? He denies the personality and deity of the Holy Spirit, the divinity and actual resurrection of Jesus Christ; ridicules the doctrine of eternal punishment: teaches the annihilation of the devil, his angels, and the incorrigible wicked.



He has labored hard to establish an earthly millennial kingdom, during which "the little flock" are to conduct an evangelistic campaign among the heathen with marvelous results.

Would you know the truth about these all-important Bible themes?

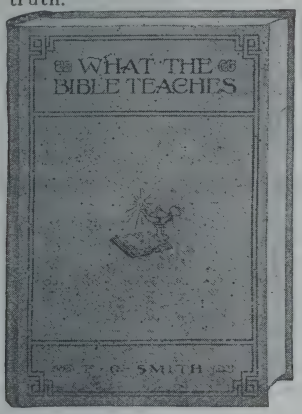
WHAT THE BIBLE TEACHES

By F. G. Smith

The most striking feature of this book is its treatment of the principal doctrines of the Bible in a way that is at the same time thorough and interesting. It is not tedious or intricate, yet it deals with fundamentals. It gets beneath the surface, goes to the heart of its subject, and makes the reader see the truth.



Young ministers, Sunday-school teachers, Bible students, and in fact every one who desires to understand the Bible, will find in this book a gold mine of useful knowledge. Such persons should read and study "What the Bible Teaches" with their Bible in hand and thus make its knowledge their own.

THE SABBATH AND THE LORD'S DAY

By H. M. Riggle

The origin of the Old Testament Sabbath (seventh day) observance is clearly shown. The different chapters tell when the Sabbath was first enjoined upon man; that it was of a ceremonial nature—a type of spiritual rest in Christ—and was abolished by his coming. It also shows that the Jewish Sabbath was not commanded to be observed in the Christian dispensation.

The book is designed to convince seventh-day observers of the fallacy of their position. "The Sabbath and the Lord's Day" contains teaching on a subject greatly misunderstood. Everybody should get a copy and read it.

Especially adapted to the use of ministers, gospel workers and teachers.

200 GENUINE INSTANCES OF DIVINE HEALING

The Doctrine Explained

Compiled and arranged by A. L. Byers

Good Cheer and Encouragement for the Afflicted

Part I of this book of 511 pages consists of two hundred remarkable instances of healing by divine power. Only those testimonies were accepted that could be verified by living witnesses. Instances are given of the healing of rheumatism, catarrh, consumption, nervous prostration, heart-trouble, complication of diseases, broken bones, painful accidents, and other numerous ills to which humanity is subject. Those who had spent everything for medicines and physicians were made whole by trusting their cases to the Great Physician. Persons pronounced incurable by doctors and given up to die by friends are now well and strong. Cancerous growth has been stayed in its course and its effects destroyed.

Part II explaining the doctrine of divine healing, treats the subject in a way that will enable the readers to grasp faith for healing. Helpful advice to those seeking healing is given.

Chapter XX, "Counterfeits of Divine Healing," and Chapter XXI, "Forty Objections and Questions Answered," are particularly interesting as they frustrate the false claims of so-called healers and those who oppose the work of the Divine Physician.

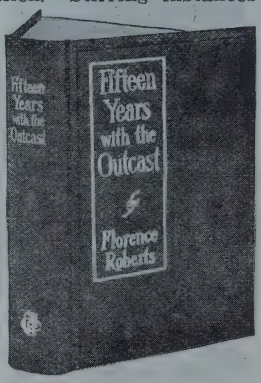
FIFTEEN YEARS WITH THE OUTCAST

By Mrs. Florence (Mother) Roberts

An intensely interesting book relating the author's personal experiences among the outcast and the fallen. Stirring instances are given of earnest missionary labors, in behalf of inmates of jails and prisons, victims of debasing drug habits and women fallen from purity.



Missionary Work among the Fallen

Mother Roberts aided by her autoharp carried the message of Christian love to those in bitter woe and despair and was the means of winning scores of souls to God. Her graphic stories of cases taken from real life can hardly fail to awaken an increased pity for the unfortunate classes deceived by sin.

SHOULD BE IN EVERY HOME

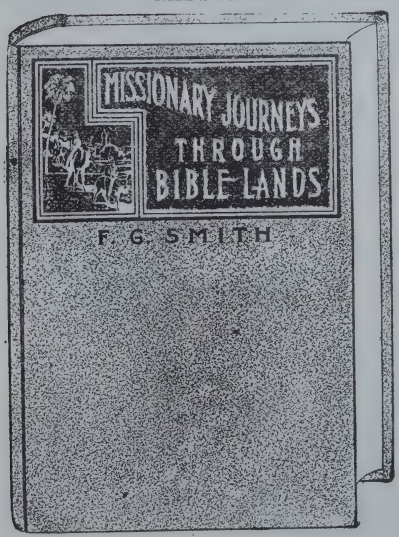
The book is written in plain yet refined language that all can safely read. In exposing the evils of the dance, the use of alcoholic liquors, and personal impurity, it brings out in an effective manner information that every boy and girl should have but is too often left to find out by costly experience.

Seven songs with music are an interesting feature. 14 full-page illustrations.

475 pages. Size, 5 x 7¼.

No. B708. Cloth, $1.00.

MISSIONARY JOURNEYS THROUGH BIBLE LANDS



By F. G. Smith

Rome, Athens, Antioch, Damascus, Nazareth, Jerusalem, etc., were visited by the author. He gives an interesting description of the different places, relating many Biblical events intimately associated with them.

More than one hundred and sixty high-grade pictures of places famous in history, with graphic narrations of important historical events.

Famous Places and Events

Eastward to Syria—Through the Holy Land—To Asia Minor and Balkan States—Religious and Social Conditions in Palestine and Syria—Personal Missionary Experiences—Missionary Methods—Homeward Bound—form the seven main divisions of the book.

"Eastward to Syria" introduces us to many important places and subjects of the Old World. The sojourn in Italy includes a visit to Pilate's Staircase, famous in traditional association with our Lord and in its connection with the life of Martin Luther; a visit to the Vatican, the Papal palace; a description and picture of the Arch to Titus, commemorating the overthrow of Jerusalem prophesied by Christ; and numerous other subjects and illustrations. Greece is next visited.

Space does not permit the enumeration of all the excelencies of this valuable book—interesting and profitable for reading-matter—a source of historic knowledge—a Bible students' aid.

IN NATURE'S HAUNTS WITH YOUTHFUL MINDS

By Wm. A. Bixler

Recommended by Educators As Well As Parents

This book answers numerous youthful questions such as where does dew come from? why does smoke go upward? how is snow formed? what makes wind? what makes the rain-drops? how is lightning formed? what makes the noise like bricks falling when it thunders? what causes the tides in the rivers? what makes the rainbow in the sky? where do the ice-bergs come from?

No it's not a question and answer book, but it's a book just full of the things children and young people want to know about the world around them, in interesting, every day language that all can understand.

Tells about cyclones, clouds, seeds, trees, flowers, mirage, oil wells, gas wells, the moon, the aurora borealis, etc., etc.

Profusely illustrated, many of the pictures are photographs taken personally by the author. A book much in demand among intelligent young people.

191 pages. Size, 7 x 9. No. B619. Cloth, 50 cents.

THE PILOT'S VOICE. A BOOK FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

By Isabel C. Byrum

THE THEME OF THE BOOK

Byron, a lad of sixteen, determines to have his own way, to associate with a young man against whom his Christian mother had faithfully warned him. Under the influence of the unprincipled James, Byron heeds less his widowed mother, till card-playing and the dance-hall visit are but small evils compared with the stealing, etc. that he is led into.

But Byron's mother does not despair—she prays. Today she lies in her grave; but Byron, having at last heeded the great Pilot's voice, is a useful Christian man—a monument of God's mercy toward the wayward son of a praying mother.

While The Pilot's Voice inspires parents to continue to pray when advice and counsel are no longer heeded, the book is written specially for young persons, warning the wayward, encouraging the penitent, and strengthening the virtuous.

A book with a mission, and yet intensely interesting. Several full-page illustrations. A very attractive and significant cover-design—lettering in gold.

224 pages. Size, 5 x 7¼.
No. B623. Cloth, 50 cents.

HAPPY HOURS AT HOME

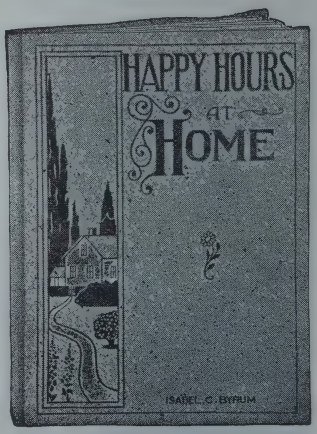
By Isabel C. Byrum

An intensely interesting book for the evening hour

Mothers and fathers will be glad to have a new book at hand when their children, hungry for a good story, come crowding round their knees. The desire of children is to be entertained, and parents desire to entertain and at the same time instruct in matters that make for Christian living. Many parents, had they the time, would gladly make up stories for the young folks, stories that would serve their purpose. A mother who understands the parent heart has done this very work, and "Happy Hours at Home" is the result.

It is a story of trial, temptation, and victory in the life of young people, so charmingly told that the readers' attention does not wander. It interests both young and old.

A valuable reward for a worthy Sunday-school scholar.



Illustrated.

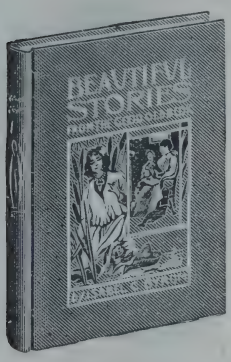
BEAUTIFUL STORIES FROM THE GOOD OLD BOOK

By Isabel C. Byrum

Printed on good paper, and is well made throughout. Both old and young will find it interesting and instructive.

The incidents and events of the Old Testament are told both in picture and in story. Simple language easily understood by children. These stories never lose their interest. The boys and girls become familiar with the lives and characters of Joseph, Abraham, Moses, Samson, Daniel, and others, so that they seem to be men who lived recently, and not hundreds of years ago.



The book also contains a number of interesting poems. It has eighty-seven illustrations; many of which cover an entire page. The frontispiece is a picture in colors of Daniel in the lions' den. The book is beautifully bound in blue cloth, stamped in gold and brown and white. It also has a presentation page, a very desirable and convenient feature when the book is used as a gift.

315 pages. Size, 7 x 9.

No. B701. Cloth, $1.00.

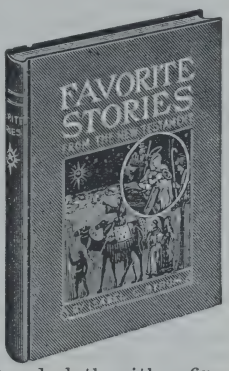
FAVORITE STORIES FROM THE NEW TESTAMENT

By Isabel C. Byrum

A companion book to "Beautiful Stories from the Good Old Book." The many precious lessons that have been left for us from the gracious lips of Christ contain rich treasures for our children if the children but comprehend them. Favorite Stories points out the central thoughts in various utterances of the Lord, thus making them easy for the child mind to grasp.

The author also narrates in language suited to children the incidents and events connected with the life of Christ and the labors of the apostles.

The book contains a number of poems.



It is printed in plain type on good, strong paper. One hundred and thirty-seven illustrations, most of them covering a full page. Frontispiece in colors showing Christ walking on the water.

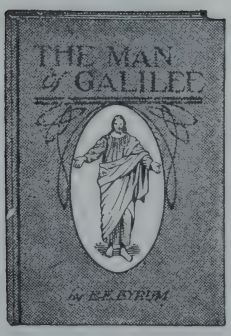
Beautifully bound in red cloth with a fine cover design stamped in black and gold. An excellent book for children.

380 pages. Size, 7 x 9.

No. B707. Cloth, $1.00.

THE MAN OF GALILEE

By E. E. Byrum



The difficulty to become interested in Bible reading is not confined to unsaved young people—often young Christians are confronted with this most perplexing and embarrassing state of affairs.

A Help for Young People

"It is hoped that the reading of these chapters will create an interest in, and a love for, the precious Word." And if you have read The Man of Galilee, you know the author's hope is well grounded.

Get young people impressed with the thoughts in the Bible, then they will read it with more interest. Let them read a few of the chapters of The Man of Galilee. The suggestive title of each chapter prepares the mind as to what it should expect to find in each particular chapter, and then, after such introductory sentences as are necessary, direct Scripture quotations are used to tell the Savior's story, with such other explanatory matter only as is necessary to connect the Biblical thoughts.

Thus the young reader becomes interested not only in the Bible, but also in Bible reading, due to the fact that so much of the narrative is told in direct Bible language.

175 pages. Size, 5 x 7¼. No. B609. Cloth, 50 cents.

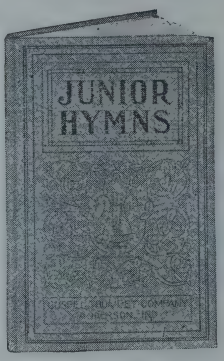
JUNIOR HYMNS

For Use in Sunday-Schools and Meetings of Children and Young People Generally

By B. E. Warren and A. L. Byers



Hymns that are learned in childhood and youth make impressions that last throughout life's career. They lodge in the heart, as the seeds of truth in the soul, to be revealed in maturer years, bearing an influence for good and inclining the soul to God and spiritual things. How important, then, that such hymns should be of the best!

"Junior Hymns" contains a number of old and tested hymns—gems whose luster has not dimmed but rather brightened by service—also the best selections from our earlier book, "Youthful Praise." In addition, there are a number of hymns written specially for this book.

The hymns that are adapted to the smaller children are indicated by the word "Primary" under their titles. "Junior Hymns" has a topical index, which will be found helpful in selecting songs for special services. There are 153 hymns. Each of these has both words and music, which makes it easy for those who can read notes to learn every song in the book.

It is the largest and best collection of Sunday-school hymns that we have ever published, and we feel confident that those who order these books will be delighted with them. The editors took special pains to put only the very choicest of songs in this book. Round notes only.

VITAL BOOKS ON THE WORLD CRISIS

FIVE IMPORTANT WAR BOOKS

Price, 75 cents per volume. Postpaid.

PAN-GERMANISM, A Critical Study of the German Scheme for the Conquest of the World, by Roland G. Usher, Professor of History at Washington University.

The author tells us succinctly and clearly, just what Pan-Germanism is, its ultimate aim, and just what it means to America.

He explains the grounds of German confidence of eventual triumph, and reviews at length the activities of German agents all over the world.

THE CHALLENGE OF THE FUTURE, by Roland G. Usher.

The first attempt to formulate an American foreign policy that will meet new conditions and save us the burden of huge armaments.

Among other things he advocates: 1st—Alliance with Great Britain. 2nd—The Pacific conceded to Japan. 3rd—Renunciation of the Monroe Doctrine. 4th—The Strong Arm in Mexico.

THE EVIDENCE IN THE CASE, by James M. Beck, LL.D., formerly Assistant Attorney-General of the United States.

Author of "The War and Humanity."

No one should leave unread "THE EVIDENCE IN THE CASE." It has been strongly endorsed by leading statesmen, cabinet ministers, diplomats, jurists and men of letters on both sides of the Atlantic. "THE EVIDENCE IN THE CASE" has been generally recognized as the most compact, lucid, and forceful statement of the cause of the Allies.

I ACCUSE! By a German. (A Scathing Arraignment of the German War Policy)

Become a missionary and get your friends or casual acquaintance, who are looking for information to read the book.

ABSORB and DIGEST "I ACCUSE!"

KITCHENER'S MOB, by James Norman Hall.

This book portrays very vividly the early events of the war. It tells of Corporal James Norman Hall's enlistment in the British Army and the preliminary training in England, before troops were sent to France. It shows the transformation of Kitchener's mob of raw recruits into one of the most efficient, brave, fearless, and powerful organizations of the world.

It relates the author's experiences in the machine-gun squad, in the first line trenches, in attacks upon the enemy, and in fraternizing with the British Tommies. In reading this book, one becomes so well acquainted with the Tommies that it seems as if we have known them always. It is a beautiful picture of the British fighting man.

STORIES OF ANIMAL LIFE

By Ernest Thompson Seton

Price, 75 cents per volume. Postpaid.

WILD ANIMALS AT HOME.

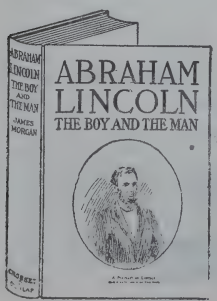
With over 150 sketches and photographs by the author. Wrapper in colors.

The studies recorded in this book were made, for the most part, in Yellowstone National Park where the animals, protected from their arch enemy, man, cease to be fearful and ready to yield to friendly advances.

WILD ANIMALS I HAVE KNOWN.

Illustrated with two hundred drawings by the author.

These stories are true. The book tells of the personal histories of Lobo, the Wolf; Silverspot, the Crow; Raggylug, a Cottontail Rabbit; Bingo, Mr. Seton's dog, and many others.



THE BEST LIFE OF LINCOLN

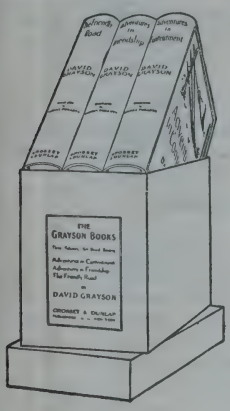
Price, 75 cents per volume. Postpaid.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, BOY AND MAN, by James Morgan

With portrait and other illustrations.

Abraham Lincoln's life story is the most inspiring in American annals and it can never be retold too often. His early struggles, his strivings for an education, his business failures and many wanderings, his defeats and victories as a lawyer, all these are told impartially and vividly.

BOOKS OF SPECIAL INTEREST



THE DAVID GRAYSON BOOKS

Illustrated by Thomas Fogarty. Colored frontispieces and fancy end papers; jackets in four colors

David Grayson! A name to conjure with! How many people have won a new grip on the plain joys of living by reading these three books! They are unique in American literature—the personal impressions of a man who was dead and came to life among country sights and sounds.

No lover of books and life can afford to do without the Grayson books. "To be a Graysonian is to be fond of the open air, to love the stretching road, the sun on the shoulder blades, the golden riot of the autumn leaves, to slip away from everything and go a-wayfaring with joy for a comrade."

THE TOM SLADE SERIES

By Percy K. Fitzhugh

The TOM SLADE BOOKS have received the official endorsement and recommendation of the Boy Scouts of America, and were written with the idea of making the public more familiar with this organization, Scout movement and what it may mean in the character development of the boy; how the "gang spirit" which is in every boy can be diverted from harmful channels and turned into a power for good. In other words, they tell in vivid story form something of Boy Scout ways and how they help a fellow grow into a manhood of which America may be proud.

Price, 75 cents per volume. Postpaid.

TOM SLADE ON THE RIVER; or The Cruise of the Honor Scout.

Tom and his friends at camp, through an exciting chain of events, have an opportunity to put into practice their Boy Scout training in "First Aid." Their ministrations are too late, however, and as a result the man's adopted son is left alone and is for the time being taken care of by the Boy Scouts. It is in the cruiser to which he falls heir that he and the Bridgeboro Troop take the memorable and most entertaining trip which is recounted in this story.

BOOKS FOR LITTLE FOLKS

SLEEPY-TIME TALES

By Arthur Scott Bailey

Picture wrappers in four colors. Illustrated by Harry L. Smith.

These little books for little people from three to eight tell of the adventures of the four-footed creatures of our American woods and fields in an amusing way which delights small two-footed human beings and brings forth the plea, "Mother, please read me again 'bout Cuffy Bear and the time he stuck his foot in the hot maple syrup."

While the youngster eagerly listens to the imaginery escapades of the little animal folks, a foundation, other than that based upon the natural history facts in the stories, is being laid. In the shortcomings of Cuffy Bear, Frisky Squirrel, Fatty Coon and their neighbors, children are quick to recognize their own faults and to take home the obvious lessons.

¶ Published for and under the control of the Library Commission of The Boy Scouts of America.

These, also, are all books that have heretofore been issued only in more expensive editions, from $1.00 to $1.50 per volume, and they constitute the only library in existence that is issued under control and guidance of a great organization that has but one object—the welfare of your boy. They solve the problem of what your boy should read.

EVERY CHILD SHOULD KNOW SERIES, PAGE 20

¶ The most important and valuable informative library for young people ever published. Children too young to read themselves are fascinated by the wonderful things their elders read to them, and boys and girls of all ages (many with boys and girls of their own) find them absorbing and educate themselves as they read and enjoy.

THE CHILDREN'S CRIMSON SERIES, PAGE 20

¶ Equally valuable in a different direction are these fascinating books, containing as they do the best of all kinds in Fairy Tales and Fables, Rhymes and Jingles. This and the preceding series now available at almost half their original price through the G. & D. system of reprinting Great Books at Little Prices.

GEOGRAPHICAL TERMS

A Splendid New Chart Illustrating Clearly, Concisely and Interestingly the Initiatory Steps in the Study of Geography.

The following subjects are illustrated in beautifully harmonizing colors:

1.—A Large Pictorial Landscape, Illustrating Graphically the Chief Features of Land and Water.
2.—A Large Map Corresponding With the Landscape, Illustrating the Various Geographical Definitions, Political and Physical.
3.—Picture of Schoolhouse, and Ground Plan of Same.
4.—Picture of Neighborhood Surrounding School, and Corresponding Map.
5.—Picture Illustrating Method of Ascertaining Direction by the Sun.
6.—Map of World, Illustrating Points of the Compass.
7.—Map of World, Showing Divisions of Land and Water, Zones, etc.
8.—The World in Space.

¶ It is suggested that the picture and the map be always taught together. When the children can recognize the course of the river on the picture they should trace it on the map. Afterwards the picture can be used as a blank map is used, i. e. for testing the knowledge of the class.

Points to Which Attention May Be Drawn.

¶ The clouds working up and covering the mountains; all except the high peak in the distance. The snow-covered mountain range and the glacier, the source of the river. Its unnavigable portion to the waterfall; below the waterfall boats can sail upon it. This part is called the lower river; the other the upper river. The valley through which the upper river runs has been worn wider by the rain and frost, and deeper by the river.

¶ The hills are barren, and on the lower ground are trees; firs in left hand corner, and a group of seven poplars on the bank of the stream.

¶ The old village nestles in a valley near the bridge, its church tower being plainly seen, while the new town with its docks and chimneys stands near the harbor. [Harbors were not safe in early days, sea robbers visited them, so towns were built far up the stream.]

¶ Across the plain a railway runs, keeping to the level ground but going as direct as possible.

¶ The breakwater is so arranged that the sea waves driven by the westerly winds shall not run up the harbor. There is smooth water and safe anchorage in the harbor. Breakwaters are built by man.

¶ The word Archipelago (pr. Ärkipel′ago) is used to indicate either the water space in which there are islands, or the islands themselves.

¶ The rocks of the Peninsula Headland are of limestone, white and hard. The cliffs forming the Cape are of clay and are easily worn. The island is being gradually washed away by the sea.

Philips' Political Series of Large Schoolroom Maps

Reduced Photographic Reproduction

This cut shows the map of North America in our "Unit" case, as it appears when extended ready for use.

THE maps of this series can be read across the largest schoolroom.

Even on the above small reduction, it will be seen that the names of the political divisions and surrounding waters of North America are easily distinguishable.

Philips' Political Series of Large Schoolroom Maps

DRAWN with unerring accuracy by the foremost geographers of the day and colored with a view to add both to their usefulness and attractiveness, the series under this heading must compel the thoughtful interest of every pupil to whom they are exhibited!

All unimportant details have been eliminated. All physical features are distinctly drawn and all political boundaries are clearly defined; moreover this series is abreast of the times. For example, on the maps of the World, Europe, Asia and South America, the railroad and steamship lines are distinctly shown in red. Features of this nature must appeal to those interested in up-to-date methods of instruction in geography.

The Comparative Series of Large Schoolroom Maps

THIS REDUCED PHOTOGRAPHIC FACSIMILE SHOWS THE COMPARATIVE SERIES MAP OF THE WORLD IN OUR "UNIT" CASE. SIZE OF MAP, 80 x 63 INCHES. LENGTH OF CASE, 84 INCHES OVER ALL

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Every teacher must have experienced the difficulty of obtaining a satisfactory Map of the World on a large scale for class use. Heretofore such maps have invariably been constructed either on a Globular Projection or upon that known as Mercator's. Both of these projections have their advantages, but are deficient in the following important respects:—

The Globular Projection shows the world in two separate Hemispheres side by side, and, whilst it is a useful method of comparing the relative sizes of the various land and sea areas, it is extremely puzzling for children to learn from such a map the relative positions of the different countries and the means of communication between them. Mercator's Projection satisfactorily overcomes the difficulty as regards relative position and means of communication, but is extremely misleading as to the relative sizes of the various countries.

To overcome these objections THE COMPARATIVE MAP OF THE WORLD has been constructed on what is known as the Equivalent Projection. This projection, although rapidly growing in favor with leading cartographers, has never before been employed on so large a scale for educational use, although it is pre-eminently suited for teaching purposes.

It is the only projection in which the Equivalent Areas or correct sizes of all parts of the world are preserved in combination with their relative position to each other; and it is the possession of these two important features which has led to its adoption in the Comparative Series of Large School-room Maps.

A glance at the accompanying reduced facsimile of the map will show that the entire earth is represented in the shape of an ellipse, the major axis of which represents the equator, whilst its minor axis represents the central meridian. All other meridians of longitude appear as ellipses, whilst the parallels of latitude appear as parallel straight lines, the intervals between them being regulated in such manner as to ensure Equivalent Areas. To emphasize the advantages the Equivalent Projection possesses over other methods of representing the globe on a flat surface, and to give Teachers the material for explaining the elements of Map Projection, inset maps of the World in Hemispheres and on Mercator's Projection have been added, together with maps on a Polar Projection, giving the Arctic and Antarctic Regions.

The Comparative Series of Large Schoolroom Maps

IT is an undoubted fact that the most serviceable maps for class teaching purposes are those that illustrate clearly, and at a glance, both Political and Physical Features. This New Series will be found to possess this combination, and, in addition, to form an extremely attractive decoration for the schoolroom.

SPECIAL FEATURES

1.—Physical Features are especially prominent. The land is tinted according to its elevation, and the mountain ranges are printed in a different color. The coastline, river courses, lakes, etc., are well defined and printed in blue.

2.—Uniformity of Scale and Comparison of Areas:—To emphasise the comparative areas of the various regions of the world, a uniform scale and equivalent projections have been used for the continental maps.

3.—The political boundaries are clearly shown by red lines, the towns by red circles, varying in size according to importance, and the railways by black lines. The principal ocean routes with their distances are also given.

4.—The lettering is well executed, and sufficiently large to be readable by all in an ordinary sized class-room.

5.—Great care has been bestowed upon the selection and spelling of names. All overcrowding has been avoided. Nothing unnecessary has been inserted. and nothing necessary omitted.

Philips' Special Series of Schoolroom Maps

The most Up-to-Date, Practical and Serviceable School Maps on the Market.

THE Special Series contains features that are embraced in no other maps made for schoolroom use!

Through railroads and steamship routes are conspicuously shown on every map in heavy red.

Trade centers of each country throughout the world are strongly indicated with large red symbols.

From the foregoing it will be noted that great prominence has been given to commercial geography. No other single series combines, in so complete and comprehensive a manner, physical, political and commercial features.

These maps are splendidly colored. Each separate country stands out sharply and distinctly so that its contour is indelibly stamped on the memory. Mountain ranges are printed in brown.

All recent political changes have been heeded, and the boundaries of countries appear as they are to-day.

The keynote of the Special Series is simplicity. While no feature of importance has been omitted, no superfluous matter has been allowed to crowd the maps to distract attention from the salient points with which it is essential that pupils be impressed.

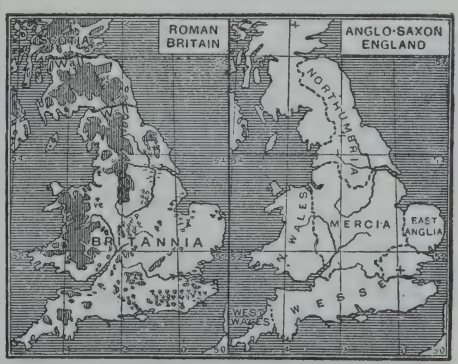
PHILIPS' WALL ATLAS OF MODERN HISTORY

This series of eight attractively colored wall maps has been specially designed to illustrate those great changes in Political Geography which have characterized the main periods in the modern history of Europe. The aim of the editors has been to provide in the series a real aid to the study and teaching of modern history. Each of the maps is intended to illustrate an important period in history, and great care has been taken to insert only those names which are likely to be useful to the Student. Thus unnecessary overcrowding is avoided, and this, together with the use of strong coloring for the political features, renders the maps beautifully cleaf.

1. EUROPE ABOUT 800, to illustrate the relation to the Roman Empire of the Frankish Kingdom of Charlemagne, the Eastern Roman Empire, and the Saracen Empire :: :: ::

The first map of the series illustrates the broad developments of European history from the end of the 4th to the beginning of the 9th Century. Colored as far as possible according to Racial Divisions, it exhibits the extent of the Roman Empire on the eve of its downfall, the final settlements of Barbarian invaders, and the ultimate partition of the Roman Empire among the three great powers of the Eighth Century—the Frankish, East Roman and Saracen Empires.

2. ROMAN BRITAIN :: :: ANGLO-SAXON ENGLAND



Of these two maps the first illustrates the influence of physical features, such as mountains, forest regions and marshy districts, upon the development of early British history. The geographical distribution of the principal British tribes is shown, and also the chief Roman settlements and roads. The second map deals with the political development of England during the Heptarchic period and illustrates the course of the English settlement of Britain up to the date of the Norman Conquest.

3. EUROPE IN THE AGE OF THE CRUSADES .

This map illustrates the period following the end of the great racial movements affecting Western Europe, when the greater part of Europe had adopted Christianity, and the Holy Roman Empire under its German Monarchs had become the dominant Christian power. Christian Europe, alarmed by the victorious advance of the Turks in Asia Minor and the conquest of Jerusalem and the Holy Land, embarked on the Crusades. The map is colored to show generally the political divisions at the end of the 1st Crusade, but the routes of all the principal Crusades are given, and care has been taken to include the names of all places of importance throughout the Crusading period.

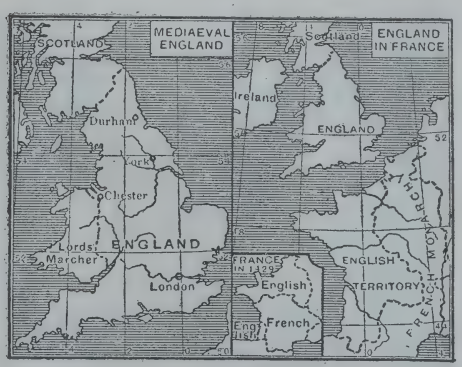
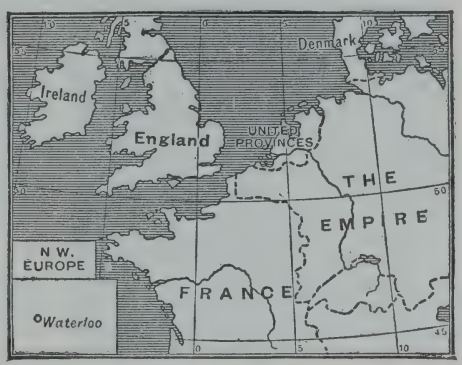
4. MEDIAEVAL ENGLAND AND WALES ENGLAND IN FRANCE

The first map treats the general history of England from the Norman Conquest to the beginning of the 16th Century. It shows the chief battlefields, castles, and boroughs returning members to 14th Century parliaments. It also marks the episcopal towns and the geographical distribution of the chief monasteries prior to the Reformation. The English Shires under the normal administration of the Sheriffs and King's Courts are distinguished from territory under special feudal jurisdiction, and the areas in Wales held by the Lords Marcher in the 12th and 13th Centuries are also shown. The second map shows primarily the extent of the Angevin Empire under Henry II, and, secondarily, illustrates the entire period of the French Wars up to the appearance and victories of Joan of Arc.



5. EUROPE AT THE TIME OF THE REFORMATION, 1555 This map illustrates the religious and political revolution of the 16th Century, due to the rapid growth of the Reformed Religion in Central Europe. Political divisions are shown for 1555, three years before the formal abdication of Charles V, but all places of importance at any period of the Reformation are shown. The map indicates clearly the great consolidated States in the west and east of Europe in contrast to the disintegrated countries of Germany and Italy, which were consequently the main theatres of the continual wars of the period.

6. NORTH-WESTERN EUROPE :: ::



This map illustrates the politics and wars of the XVII and XVIII Centuries. Among the more important historical events covered by the map are the English Civil War, the naval wars in in the narrow seas between England, France and Holland, the Conquests of Louis XIV, the struggle for liberty in the Low Countries, and the Campaigns of Marlborough. An inset of the Waterloo Campaign is also given.

7. EUROPE UNDER NAPOLEON, 1810. The map represents the Napoleonic Empire at its height, when Austria and Prussia had been brought to their knees, and almost all the rest of Europe was in dependent alliance with the Emperor. The coloring distinguishes the Imperial territory under the direct rule of Napoleon from Dependent States and Allied States, and in the selection of names, care has been taken to include all the important battlefields of the Napoleonic wars.

8. ENGLAND BEFORE AND AFTER THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION :: :: These two maps exhibit the effect of the Industrial Revolution in regard to the growth and distribution of the population, the rise of large towns on the coalfield areas, and the localization of industries. An attempt has been made to represent the probable distribution of the population on the earlier map, but it is only on the basis of counties that any trustworthy estimates for 1701 are obtainable, the result must be regarded as largely conjectural. The density of the population for each county is therefore added on this map in red.

HAMMOND'S NEW HISTORICAL ATLAS
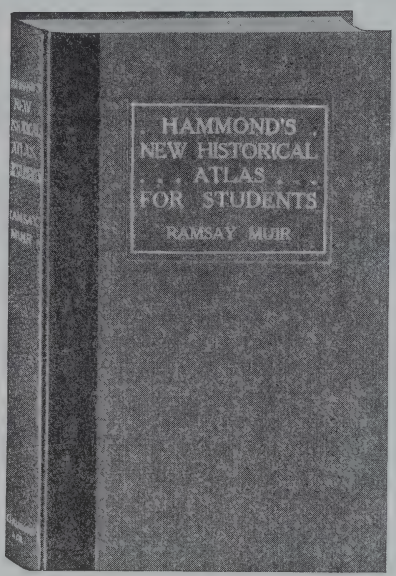
FOR STUDENTS



The study of Modern History, whether American, English or European, has long been handicapped by the non-existence of a carefully produced historical atlas, covering the whole ground and issued at a price which will place it within the reach of all students. This new atlas, therefore, endeavors to fill this gap. No pains have been spared to achieve this end; every map has been specially drawn and engraved and the entire work has been prepared under the supervision of Ramsay Muir, M.A., Professor of Modern History in the University of Liverpool, England.

This new Historical Atlas numbers in its contents 65 double-page plates, 7¾ x 9½ inches, containing 154 colored maps and diagrams, an introduction of 62 pages, illustrated by 43 maps and plans in black and white and an index of over six thousand names.

SOME OF THE FEATURES WHICH DISTINGUISH THE HAMMOND HISTORICAL ATLAS

¶ Great emphasis is placed upon the physical basis of historical geography. A series of physical maps has been included, carefully designed to show the geography of all the principal areas of historical importance. These maps are placed in proximity to groups of other maps of the same area so that the influence of the build of a country upon its history will be more easily made manifest to the student.

¶ Great care has been taken to avoid a confusing multiplicity of names on the maps; only those names which are likely to be useful to the student have been inserted, giving the maps a clear, legible appearance.

¶ The introduction contains a series of comments upon each of the maps in turn, which will be found of great assistance to the teacher. These bring out the influence of geography upon history and the reasons for rapid changes in political geography which has especially marked certain periods of the world's history.

¶ The engraving and printing leave nothing to be desired, the color work being particularly well executed.

¶ Especial attention must be called to the beautiful bindings of the Historical Atlas. Bound in half leather of an attractive green shade, with side and back stamps in gold, the the book presents a strikingly handsome appearance. It is also bound in durable red cloth with gold cover stamps.

Size of the book, closed, 5¾ inches wide, 8¾ inches long, and 1½ inches thick.

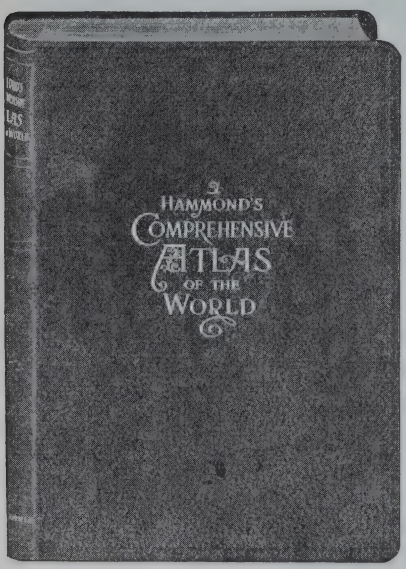
HAMMOND'S
COMPREHENSIVE ATLAS
OF THE WORLD

A NEW IDEA IN ATLAS-MAKING



In this complete publication, a new idea in atlas-making has been evolved as a result of the universal objections to large, bulky and out-of-date atlases.

THE CAUSE

of this dissatisfaction was the fact that all the available atlases were either too large to be easily handled, too small to be complete in detail, or too old to be reliable. No one publication contained large, up-to-date maps, and, at the same time, was sufficiently compact to be conveniently examined.

THE EFFECT

of the prevailing dissatisfaction is the publication of this atlas which combines ALL the requisities mentioned above—a veritable revelation in atlas-making.

Hence, this is the atlas that appeals to everyone—reader, student and business man. Its maps are absolutely down-to-date and are so complete that practically every post-office and railroad station in the United States are legibly named; yet, the book is smaller in length, and only one-half inch wider than this catalogue—and equally as pliable and convenient to read.

Obviously, to bring about this compact result, each state and country has one or more double-page maps devoted to it—some have as many as four, making their combined surface measure as much as 18x22 inches. There are in all 256 pages of maps covering EVERY portion of the earth.

There is no extraneous matter in this compact but comprehensive volume. Following the maps is a Descriptive Gazetteer of the Principal Cities of the World, giving interesting details of the great trade centers, places of historic interest, etc. The balance of the book is devoted to a very complete list of the Cities of the World, giving the latest population statistics and in addition locating each place on the state maps.

The Comprehensive is the first American Atlas of large maps which fits into bookshelves of the usual size and is at the same time the first one to be bound, like a Bible, in full, flexible leather. The flexibility, the convenient size of the book, and its light weight make the atlas an excellent one for ready reference. It takes so little space that it may be readily examined held in one hand, a splendid feature in a library or office book of reference. It is also bound in silk cloth.

The size of the Comprehensive Atlas is 9x7 inches and it contains over 500 pages

HAMMOND'S
MODERN ATLAS of THE WORLD

¶ During the last few years numberless changes, which render an old atlas useless, have been wrought. New towns have sprung up; old cities and towns have grown; thousands of miles of new railroads have been built; history has changed the boundaries of countries, and these with numberless other changes are recorded in this new work. It is down to date in every particular.

This new atlas contains 128 pages of MAPS, beautifully printed in colors, representing every portion of the earth as it is TO-DAY. These plates have been engraved from new drawings, based on the latest surveys, and the publishers believe them to be the most complete and carefully edited series of like size covering the whole earth. The lettering is clear and clean cut throughout, carefully graded in size to convey at a glance relative importance of places. Railroads are shown and named and with very few exceptions, in crowded or densely populated sections, every railroad station and post-office is named.

On the margin of each map is an ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED INDEX OF COUNTIES (or other minor divisions), CITIES AND TOWNS. A division or place may be instantly located without turning the page. The convenience of such a quick reference index will be readily appreciated.

Another valuable feature of this work is a very complete INDEX OF CITIES AND TOWNS of the United States with POPULATION ACCORDING TO THE LATEST CENSUS. This new index is complete and down to date. Population of Foreign Cities are given according to latest reports.

The size of this work is 10½x13½ inches, printed on high finish paper and durably bound in red cloth, with attractive cover stamping.

PRICE, $3.00

Each day brings news which cannot be clearly understood without referring to a good map.

No one can intelligently read his daily paper without a reference book such as this new atlas.

Hammond's Handy Atlas of the World

Is the most recent and authoritative, and, therefore, the most reliable atlas of its size published

It contains a new series of ACCURATE AND COMPLETE MAPS, beautifully printed in colors. There are in this collection separate maps of each state, territory, and insular possession of the United States; of each province in Canada; of each country of Europe, and general maps of all other portions of the globe.

In the maps of our states and territories, and of the provinces of Canada, RAILROADS ARE NAMED, and stations are shown, in a very complete manner. These and all other details are brought down to as recent date as in any of the more expensive atlases.

Alphabetically arranged lists of cities give the LATEST POPULATION STATISTICS

The maps in this work are not only new and reliable, but they are legible. Every name is lettered in clean-cut type; no indistinct hand-lettering is used. High-finish paper made expressly for this book is used throughout.

Many, if not most, low-priced atlases are made up of old plates, all but worthless in this era of rapid changes:

COMPARATIVE SERIES MAPS OF BIBLE LANDS

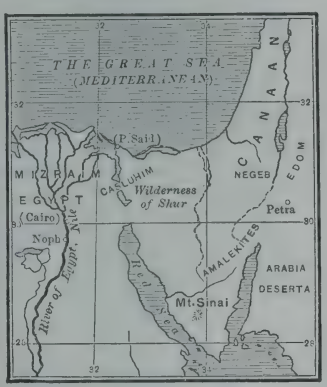
TO understand the bible story a knowledge of the geography of bible lands is indispensable, and it is with the view of supplying the material for an accurate study of scripture history that the new COMPARATIVE SERIES OF BIBLE MAPS has been compiled. The maps are clearly drawn and attractively printed in colors, presenting graphically each phase of bible history. The series ends with a map of Modern Palestine, showing the modern identifications of the Biblical sites, and exhibiting by a system of contours and orographical coloring, those remarkable physical features of the Holy Land which have played so important a part in determining the history of the children of Israel.

1. The Distribution of the Nations

The first map of the series illustrates the book of Genesis, and shows the distribution after the flood of the descendants of Hem, Shem, and Japhet, according to the Biblical narrative.



2. Egypt, the Sinai Peninsula, and the Promised Land

Map 2 illustrates the book of Exodus, and especially the sojourn of the Israelites in the land of Egypt, their wanderings in the Desert, and their arrival in the land of Canaan. Fertile districts such as Lower Egypt and the Promised Land are distinguished by color from the tracts of arid desert through which the children of Israel journeyed for so many years.

3. Syria and Mesopotamia The Persian Empire

Sheet 3 contains two maps illustrating Old Testament history, especially those great kingdoms of ancient times—Chaldea, Assyria, Babylonia, Persia and Media, whither the children of Israel again and again were carried into captivity.

COMPARATIVE SERIES MAPS OF BIBLE LANDS

4. Canaan as divided among the Twelve Tribes

Map 4 illustrates the books of Joshua and Judges, and shows the division of the land of Canaan among the tribes of Israel, the position of the Levitical cities and of the cities of refuge. A plan of ancient Jerusalem is added, showing the gradual growth of the sacred city after its occupation by the children of Judah.

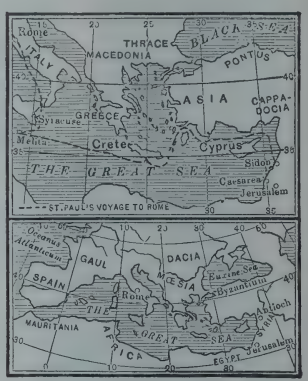
5. The Holy Land in the Time of the Kings

Map 5 illustrates the books of Samuel, the Kings and the Chronicles. It depicts the formation of the Hebrew kingdom under Saul and David, its vast extension to the Euphrates under the sway of Solomon, and its disruption into the kingdoms of Judah and Israel after his death.

6. Palestine in the Time of Christ

Map 6 illustrates the Gospel story. It exhibits the Holy Land as it existed at the time of the life of Christ, under the domination of the Romans. The familiar names of places visited by Jesus on his journeys through Galilee, Judea, and Samaria can be identified, and an enlargement of the environs of Jerusalem facilitates the study of the New Testament narrative, where it deals with the final tragedy in the life of the Saviour.

7. The Journeys of St. Paul
The Roman Empire



Sheet 7 contains two maps, the first illustrating more particularly the acts of the apostles and the epistles, and the second giving a general survey of the Roman empire as it existed at the birth of Christ. On the first map, the several journeys of the great missionary apostle are clearly indicated; also the positions of the early Christian churches.

8. Modern Palestine

Map 8 exhibits the striking physical characteristics of the Holy Land. It shows also the principal modern identifications of ancient sites; and both the ancient and modern means of communication, namely roads and roadways. A study of the physical features of Palestine is the only way to understand the bible narrative, and in this map we see how this little country, cleft from the sources of the Jordan to the Red Sea by a tremendous gorge or depression, and shut off from the outer world either by desert, by sea, or the snowcapped peaks of Hermon and of Lebanon, provided a fitting home for the "peculiar people," and the most perfect of birthplaces for the Christian religion.

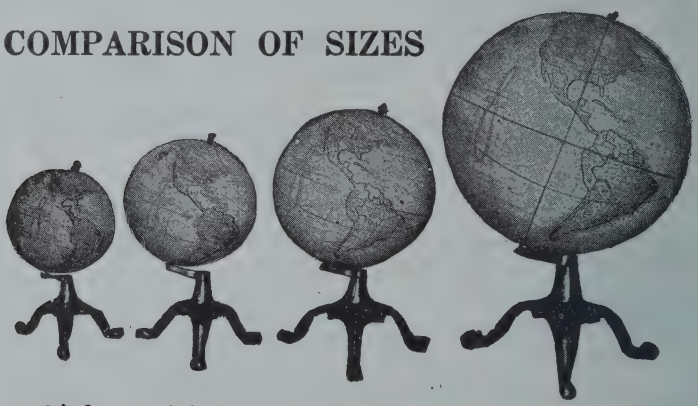
COMPARISON OF SIZES



8-inch 10-inch 12-inch 18-inch

¶ Though not usually known, the superficial area of an 18-inch globe is almost twelve times that of an 8-inch globe and more than three times that of a twelve inch globe. On account of the clearness of the engraving which is correspondingly larger, we strongly recommend the 18-inch globe for general purpose.

Our New Suspension Globe

SUSPENSION GLOBE

REPRESENTING the latest and most effective manner of mounting for schoolroom purposes. Hanging, as it does, from the ceiling of the room, it is in plain view of every pupil, and utilizes space, otherwise wasted. This feature of mounting does away with any possible injury to the globe by being upset or knocked over, as is often the case with other styles. Can be raised or lowered at will and rotates on every conceivable diameter.

This globe has had the most remarkable sale of any school globe ever manufactured, and is gaining more and more in popular favor every day. Users are most enthusiastic in their praise, and we do not hesitate to recommend this globe very highly to any school now unequipped.

THE NEW AUTHENTIC SERIES MAPS

No material of a geographic nature is as constantly sought as a reliable series of pocket maps of continents and countries, and it is entirely because of their up-to-dateness, general accuracy, and low price that the Authentic Series has enjoyed a popularity exceeded by no other line.

These maps, covering, on a large scale, every important portion of the civilized globe are based on the most recent surveys and other reliable data, while the greatest care and precision have been exercised in their engraving and printing.

Four distinquishing features mark the preparation of these maps:

1. MINUTE DETAIL. It may be safely said that no other maps contain small details to such a degree of completeness. They show the political divisions of countries, sub-divisions, and states. Railways are accurately and distinctly delineated and principal roads, submarine telegraph lines, etc. are given.

2. GREAT CLEARNESS. By the careful elimination of unimportant details and by the distinct lettering throughout, all confusion and illegibility have been successfully avoided; the maps can be examined and the desired imformation obtained without the slightest difficulty.

3. LARGE SCALE. Serving also to increase the legibility of the maps, their large scale appeals to all tourists and travelers, as well as those who require that the delineation of even the smallest details be accurate.

4. DISTINCT COLORING. The boundaries of all political divisions are indicated by light tints, which give the maps a strikingly beautiful appearance, without obliterating any of the place names.

The compactness of these maps in their light blue cloth cases adds to their general attractiveness and utility.

On this new series of maps, the automobile routes are shown very clearly. The good roads are distinguished by color from the fair and poor ones, and those on the scales of one or two miles to the inch, name the principal highways. The maps are the latest and most authentic, for they are based on the last reports of State Highway Commissions and information supplied by Touring Clubs, as well as recent government and private surveys. HAMMOND'S
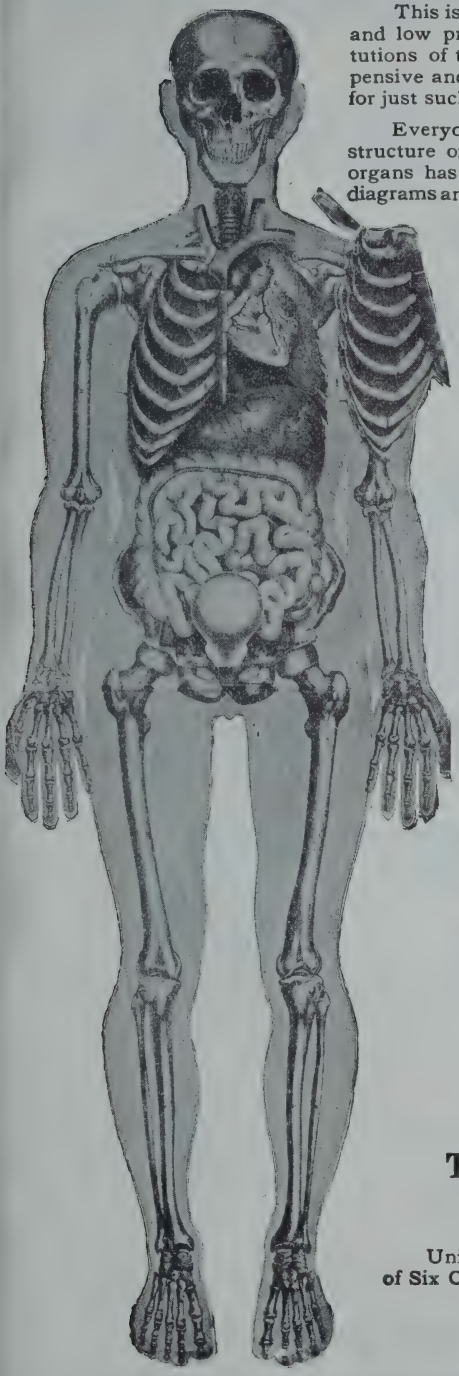
POPULAR MANIKIN

SIZE 16½x7½ INCHES



This is the first anatomical model of convenient size and low price to be introduced in the educational institutions of this country. The full sized manikins are expensive and cumbersome and there has long been a need for just such a model as the Popular Manikin.

Everyone who has undertaken the task of teaching the structure of the human frame and the arrangement of its organs has undoubtedly felt the insufficiency of ordinary diagrams and sketches; for it is impossible to give by the use of such aids alone, a correct idea of the position of the parts. In this model an attempt has been made to give a pictorial representation of the human body and its organs, such as may be examined and turned over by students, and, at the same time, to supply a concise description of its structure and functions.

For Lectures or Private Study

This manikin consists of a Series of Colored Plates bound with Explanatory matter in heavy cardboard covers. The organs are represented by appropriately colored and shaped pieces of heavy paper that fold into their proper place in the Model, so as to convey a correct idea of their relative size and location.

The Explanatory Matter

In this brief Physiology are concisely described, respectively, The Skin, The Skeleton, The Muscular System, The Heart and Blood Vessels, The Respiratory System, The Digestive System, The Urinary Apparatus, The Nervous System and The Organs of the Senses.

The Model

Accompanied by a numerical Key Index of References, the model consists of five colored plates with adjustable organs as follows:

Plate I. —The Trunk and Limbs, exposing the Lungs, Stomach and Viscera.
Plate II. —The Muscular System.
Plate III.—The Circulatory System.
Plate IV.—The Nervous System.
Plate V. —The Skeleton, with the Respiratory and Digestive Systems.

Price - - $2.00

Supplied Also
The Female Human Body.

Uniform with the Popular Manikin and consisting of Six Colored Plates with Explanatory matter.

Price - - $2.00

Entertaining and Instructive.

Hammond's Geographical Puzzles.

There is nothing more fascinating to a child or to an adult than the solving of a puzzle. It appeals to the imagination. It brings the mental faculties into play and affords great pleasure at the same time. It is at once a test of ingenuity and a test of patience.

From this delightful series of geographical games, much information of a lasting value may be obtained. A prominent educator recently said, "I learned more geography when I was young from one of these geographical games than from all the text books which I have since read." All information, pleasurably obtained, is long remembered, but when it is of a geographical nature, which is so easily forgotten, this method is especially commendable.

The puzzle consists of a number of pieces of three-ply card-board covered by a map of a sub-division of a state, country or continent. Each piece is the respective shape and relative size of each sub-division, and thus, when the pieces are put together, they form a map of the entire state state, country or continent. This teaches the location, size and shape of each section, and, at the same time, proves a pleasing diversion.

A work of the highest merit and greatest importance on the early history of the great West. CHARLEVOIX'S HISTORY OF NEW FRANCE

Translated from the original edition, with notes, by Dr. John Gilmary Shea. A new edition, with life of the Translator and Bibliography of his writings, by Noah Farnham Morrison.

The importance of Dr. Shea's translation of Rev. P. F. X. De Charlevoix's History and General Description of New France, as an original authority and standard reference work cannot be overestimated. The New France of that date (1740) was far more than what we now know as Canada. It embraced the best part of the North American Continent. Thus Charlevoix, besides giving a full history of Canada down to 1740, relates in detail the early annals of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, New York, Michigan, Illinois and Northwestern States, and Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. This new edition contains over 40 illustrations, including all the maps, steel portraits, etc. Limited to 750 numbered sets. 6 vols., 8vo, cloth, uncut, - - - - - $18.00 net per set

This important work, of which a very limited number was published by the author thirty years ago, is now very rare. A fire having destroyed a large portion of certain of the volumes, only about 150 complete sets were ever sold.

AMERICAN EXPLORERERS SERIES NO. 4

History of Early Steamboat Navigation on the Missouri River

By MAJOR HIRAM M. CHITTENDEN, U. S. ENGINEER CORPS.

The Life and Adventures of Joseph La Barge, Pioneer Navigator and Indian Trader. For fifty years identified with the commerce of the Missouri Valley. Map, portraits and illustrations from early photographs. 2 vols., 8vo, cloth. (Edition limited to 950 copies.) - - - - - - - - - - - $6.00 net

A valuable and interesting original work by the author of "The American Fur Trade of the Far West." Very few people now have any conception of the part the steamboat navigation of the Missouri River played in the upbuilding of the West. The business of the fur trade, the intercourse of government agents with the Indians, the campaigns of the army throughout the valley and the wild rush of gold-seekers to the mountains, all depended, in greater or less degree, upon the Missouri River as a line of transportation. No other river in this country has a record to compare with it. From beginning to end it abounds in thrilling incident, and the life which it fostered was full of picturesque and even tragic details.

World wickedness and deluge. GENESIS 7.

5 ¶ And GOD saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.

6 And it repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it grieved him at his heart.

7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.

8 But Noah found grace in the eyes of the LORD.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Noah: Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations, and Noah walked with God.

10 And Noah begat three sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

12 And God looked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.

13 And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth.

14 ¶ Make thee an ark of gopher wood; rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.

15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

17 And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth shall die.

18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.

21 And take thou unto thee of all food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

22 Thus did Noah; according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

7] CHAPTER 7.

The general deluge.

AND the LORD said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation.

2 Of every clean beast thou shalt take to thee by sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.

4 For yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I destroy from off the face of the earth.

5 And Noah did according unto all that the LORD commanded him.

6 And Noah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

7 ¶ And Noah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of clean beasts, and of beasts that are not clean, and of fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth,

9 There went in two and two unto Noah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Noah.

10 And it came to pass after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

11 ¶ In the six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened.

12 And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

13 In the selfsame day entered Noah, and Shem, and Ham, and Japheth, the sons of Noah, and Noah's wife, and the three wives of his sons with them, into the ark;

14 They, and every beast after his kind, and all the cattle after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, every bird of every sort.

15 And they went in unto Noah into the ark, two and two of all flesh, wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they that went in, went in male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the LORD shut him in.

17 And the flood was forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lift up above the earth.

18 And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth; and the ark went upon the face of the waters.

Christ's sermon ST. MATTHEW, 5. in the mount.

24 And his fame went throughout all Sȳr'ĭ-ȧ: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people from Gāl'ĭ-lee, and from Dē-cāp'ō-lis, and from Jē-rų'sa-lēm, and from Jū-dæ'ȧ, and from beyond Jōr'dan.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Beginning of the sermon in the mount. 14 The light of the world. 21 What it is to kill. 38 Exhortation to suffer wrong. 44 Love our enemies. 48 Labour to be perfect.

AND seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 ¶ Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid.

15 Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 ¶ Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Phār'ĭ-sees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment:

22 But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee;

24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery:

28 But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

Generations of Terah. GENESIS, 12. God calleth Abram.

17 And Ē′bēr lived after he begat Pē′leg four hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters.
18 And Pē′leg lived thirty years, and begat Rē′u:
19 And Pē′leg lived after he begat Rē′u two hundred and nine years, and begat sons and daughters.
20 And Rē′u lived two and thirty years, and begat Sē′rug:
21 And Rē′u lived after he begat Sē′rug two hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters.
22 And Sē′rug lived thirty years, and begat Nā′hôr:
23 And Sē′rug lived after he begat Nā′hôr two hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.
24 And Nā′hôr lived nine and twenty years, and begat Tē′rah:
25 And Nā′hôr lived after he begat Tē′rah an hundred and nineteen years, and begat sons and daughters.
26 And Tē′rah lived seventy years, and begat Ā′brăm, Nā′hôr, and Hā′ran.
27 ¶ Now these are the generations of Tē′rah: Tē′rah begat Ā′brăm, Nā′hôr, and Hā′ran; and Hā′ran begat Lōt.
28 And Hā′ran died before his father Tē′rah in the land of his nativity, in Ûr of the Chăl′deeş.
29 And Ā′brăm and Nā′hôr took them wives: the name of Ā′brăm's wife was Sā′rāi; and the name of Nā′hôr's wife, Mĭl′cah, the daughter of Hā′ran, the father of Mĭl′cah, and the father of Ĭs′cah.
30 But Sā′rāi was barren; she had no child.
31 And Tē′rah took Ā′brăm his son, and Lōt the son of Hā′ran his son's son, and Sā′rāi his daughter in law, his son Ā′brăm's wife; and they went forth with them from Ûr of the Chăl′deeş, to go into the land of Cā′năan; and they came unto Hā′ran, and dwelt there.
32 And the days of Tē′rah were two hundred and five years: and Tē′rah died in Hā′ran.

CHAPTER 12.

1 God calleth Abram, and blesseth him with a promise of Christ: 4 he departs from Haran. 6 Canaan promised.

NOW the LORD had said unto Ā′brăm, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee:
2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing:
3 And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.
4 So Ā′brăm departed, as the LORD had spoken unto him; and Lōt went with him: and Ā′brăm was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Hā′ran.
5 And Ā′brăm took Sā′rāi his wife, and Lōt his brother's son, and all their substance that they had gathered, and the souls that they had gotten in Hā′ran; and they went forth to go into the land of Cā′năan; and into the land of Cā′năan they came.
6 ¶ And Ā′brăm passed through the land unto the place of Sī′chem, unto the plain of Mō′reh. And the Cā′năan-ite was then in the land.
7 And the LORD appeared unto Ā′brăm, and said, Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an altar unto the LORD, who appeared unto him.
8 And he removed from thence unto a mountain on the east of Bĕth′-el, and pitched his tent, having Bĕth′-el on the west, and Hā′ī on the east: and there he builded an altar unto the LORD, and called upon the name of the LORD.
9 And Ā′brăm journeyed, going on still toward the south.
10 ¶ And there was a famine in the land: and Ā′brăm went down into Ē′gўpt to sojourn there; for the famine was grievous in the land.
11 And it came to pass, when he was come near to enter into Ē′gўpt, that he said unto Sā′rāi his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art a fair woman to look upon:
12 Therefore it shall come to pass, when the Ē-gўp′tians shall see thee, that they shall say, This is his wife: and they will kill me, but they will save thee alive.
13 Say, I pray thee, thou art my sister: that it may be well with me for thy sake; and my soul shall live because of thee.

2 And he sent messengers to Ā'hăb king of Is'ra-el into the city, and said unto him, Thus saith Bĕn-hā'dăd,

3 Thy silver and thy gold is mine: thy wives also and thy children, even the goodliest, are mine.

16 And they went out at noon: but Bĕn-hā'dăd was drinking himself drunk in the pavilions, he and the kings, the thirty and two kings that helped him.

17 And the young men of the princes of the provinces went out first; and Bĕn-hā'dăd sent out, and they told him, saying, There are men come out of Sa-mā'ri-a.

Spirit of God descending like a dove,
and lighting upon him:

S. LUKE, 19. Christ visiteth a publican.

Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.

22 Now when Jē'sus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And when Jē'sus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men, are possible with God.

28 Then Pē'ter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.

29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake,

30 Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

31 Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Je-

CHAPTER 19. 992

AND Jē'sus entered and passed through Jĕr'i-chō.

2 And, behold, there was a man named Zac-chæ'us, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jē'sus, who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Jē'sus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zac-chæ'us, make haste, and come down, for to day I must abide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.

8 And Zac-chæ'us stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods, I give to the poor: and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.

9 And Jē'sus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forsomuch as he also is a son of A'bra-ham.

10 For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

Phăr'ĭ-seeş were offended, after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered and said, [m] Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone: [n] they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 [o] Then answered Pē'tĕr and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Jē'şus said, [p] Are ye also yet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that [q] whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But [r] those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man.

19 [s] For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:

20 These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ [t] Then Jē'şus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tȳre and Sī'dŏn.

22 And, behold, a woman of Că'năan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of Dā'vid; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered and said, [u] I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Iş'rą-el.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to [x] dogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28 Then Jē'şus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

ST. LUKE, 5.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Mō'ṣeṣ commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 ¶ And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Phär'ī-seeṣ and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Gāl'ī-lee, and Jū-dæ'a, and Jē-ry'sā-lēm: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 ¶ And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the house top, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst before Jē'ṣus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 And the scribes and the Phär'ī-seeṣ began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone?

22 But when Jē'ṣus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.

27 ¶ And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Lē'vī, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 And Lē'vī made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicans and of others that sat down with them.

30 But their scribes and Phär'ī-seeṣ murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

31 And Jē'ṣus answering

The Great Writings of Luther in English

Works of Martin Luther

PHILADELPHIA EDITION

The works have been translated in their entirety. The editors have had no other desire than to say in English what Luther said in German and in Latin. They have suppressed nothing, but have allowed Luther to speak his own mind in a new language. Most of the works are here put into English for the first time. Of the fifteen writings contained in the first two volumes, ten have never been translated into English before.

The translators are men of known scholarly ability. They are eminently qualified for the work they have undertaken to do, and it is being done with the utmost care. Each writing has its own separate introduction, and allusions which the modern reader finds difficult are explained in foot-notes.

BOOK OF JUDGES.

CHAPTER 1.

B. C. 1425.

1 Conquests by Judah. 8 Jerusalem taken. 21 The acts of Benjamin. 29 Nations remaining unconquered.

NOW after the death of Jŏsh'u-a it came to pass, that the children of Ĭs'ra-el [a]asked the LORD, saying, Who shall go up for us against the Cā'năan-ītes first, to fight against them?

2 And the LORD said, [b]Jū'dah shall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand.

3 And Jū'dah said unto Sĭm'e-on his brother, Come up with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Cā'năan-ītes; and I likewise will go with thee into thy lot. [c]So Sĭm'e-on went with him.

4 And Jū'dah went up; and [d]the LORD delivered the Cā'năan-ītes and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes into their hand: and they slew of them in Bē'zek ten thousand men.

5 And they found Ā-dŏn'ĭ-bē'zek in Bē'zek: and they fought against him, and they slew the Cā'năan-ītes and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes.

6 But Ā-dŏn'ĭ-bē'zek fled; and they pursued after him, and caught him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes.

7 And Ā-dŏn'ĭ-bē'zek said, Threescore and ten kings, having [1]their thumbs and their great toes cut off, [2]gathered their meat under my table: [e]as 17 And Jū'dah went with Sĭm'e-on his brother, and they slew the Cā'năan-ītes that inhabited Zē'phath, and utterly destroyed it. And the name of the city was called [q]Hôr'mah.

18 Also Jū'dah took [r]Gā'za with the coast thereof, and Ăs'ke-lŏn with the coast thereof, and Ĕk'rŏn with the coast thereof.

19 And [s]the LORD was with Jū'dah; and [t]he drave out the inhabitants of the mountain; but could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, because they had [t]chariots of iron.

20 [u]And they gave Hē'bron unto Cā'leb, as Mō'ses said: and he expelled thence the three sons of Ā'năk.

21 [v]And the children of Bĕn'ja-min did not drive out the Jĕb'u-sītes that inhabited Je-ru'sa-lĕm; but the Jĕb'u-sītes dwell with the children of Bĕn'ja-min in Je-ru'sa-lĕm unto this day.

A COMPLETE CATALOGUE OF THE PUBLICATIONS OF HOUGHTON MIFFLIN COMPANY

BOSTON AND NEW YORK
HOUGHTON MIFFLIN COMPANY
1917

Special Notice

Owing to the increased cost of the various materials which go into the making of books, especially the paper, and the leather for fine bindings, the prices given in our catalogue are subject to change without notice. It is our intention, however, to maintain our present prices wherever it is possible to do so.

Owing also to the many difficulties in securing paper, we have at times been obliged to substitute in the reprinting of standard editions a different grade of paper. This substitution, however, is but temporary, and as soon as normal conditions are resumed, it will be our purpose to restore to our volumes the same excellence in every detail for which they have been noted in the past.

AMERICAN CRISIS BIOGRAPHIES, THE

Edited by Ellis Paxson Oberholtzer, Ph.D., with the counsel and advice of Prof. John B. McMaster, of the University of Pennsylvania.

This is the first serious attempt ever made to provide an adequate, accurate and unbiased history of the Great Civil War with its causes and effects.

Including the biographies of twenty of the leading men who figured prominently in the period preceding the war, actively in the war and during the reconstruction period, it is as well an illuminating history of the American people from 1840 to 1870.

The biographies are divided equally between the North and the South, and the fact that the writers selected are authorities belonging to the younger generation secures for their work freedom from any war-time prejudice.

"This series of biographies is the most ambitious attempt ever made to collect in one series the lives of the men who led the United States through the greatest crisis in the Country's history."—The Philadelphia Public Ledger.

CHAMBERS, REV. ARTHUR

Man and the Spiritual World. A companion volume to "Our Life After Death," and, in a way, supplementary to it. Teaches that there is a great deal in the Bible about the spiritual life which has been but imperfectly grasped hitherto. 12mo. (Weight, 18 ozs.) $1.25

Our Life After Death. The substance of this book is the theory (based on Scriptural authority entirely) of a life in Hades, between the earth life and that of heaven or hell, including belief in the development of the soul in the intermediate life, and teaching that the gospel is preached here, with the consequent permission of the hope that it is not preached in vain. The book is reverent and thoughtful. 12mo. (Weight, 18 ozs.) $1.25

Our Self After Death. Mr. Chambers has spent years investigating how much knowledge the Bible reveals of our life after death. In this new volume he gives the result of his latest studies, but unlike some of his earlier works this is written in popular style, and can be easily comprehended by all. His interpretations of Bible teachings on this subject are both satisfying and comforting. A most appropriate condolence gift. 12mo. (Weight, 15 ozs.) $1.00

Problems of the Spiritual. Mr. Chambers has given long and careful study to the subject of the future life, and to the passages in Holy Scripture bearing thereon, and is perhaps better qualified to write upon it than any other man living. 12mo. (Weight, 18 ozs.) $1.25

Thoughts of the Spiritual. This volume is the outcome of the large correspondence between Mr. Chambers and thoughtful, earnest readers of his previous works on the future life. Their study of the subject led them to ask many important and pressing questions, which, unable always to answer personally, Mr. Chambers, after prayerful study and research, has endeavored to reply to in this volume. 12mo. (Weight, 18 ozs.) $1.25

CULLISON, IRENE M.

Mother Goose Finger Plays. This is an adaptation of Mother Goose rhymes to meet the need of the little one who is just learning about a wonderful being—himself. The rhymes are of real educational value because they consist of definite words and ideas which the children first need to learn; they are jingles and therefore are easily memorized; they are jolly and therefore are enjoyable. By means of many photographs of actual hands at play, the mother is shown how she may, with her own fingers and those of her baby, work out little dramas with the Mother Goose rhymes. Thin-quarto. Boards. Illustrated. (Weight, 15 ozs.) 75 cents

CULLUM, RIDGWELL

*The Forfeit. A Montana story of ranch life without the limitations of the usual western tale. The story starts with the discovery by Jeff Masters that his lovable but devil-may-care twin brother and the leader of the "Lightfoot Rustlers" are one and the same. The cattle thieves are run to earth through information obtained from a woman by the offer of a $10,000.00 reward and Ronny Masters, the twin brother is strung up. How fate some years later throws this woman in Jeff's path, his marriage to her, and his discovery that she was responsible for his brother's death provide the material for a story which compels the absorbed attention of the reader to the end. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 26 ozs.) $1.35

The Golden Woman. Do you like to read of women of power and force, with energy sufficient to lay hold on a pursuing fate, to wrestle with, and subdue it? Do you like to read of men of such determination that no obstacles either physical or psychic, will prevent them from winning the women they love? Do you enjoy an atmosphere of the occult, an insight into that strange spirit world that we know lies all about us and yet that we can neither see nor touch? Such a woman, such a man, and such an atmosphere are revealed in this story. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 22 ozs.) $1.35

The Law Breakers. A tale of suspense and mystery laid in a secluded valley in Western Canada. There is every evidence to show that "whisky running" is being carried on in the valley, yet in spite of all efforts, they continue to elude capture. At last, to Stanley Fyles, is delegated the task of capturing the head of the whisky gang. The story of his attempts, disappointments, and final success makes a tale of thrilling adventure and totally unexpected action. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 22 ozs.) $1.35

The Men Who Wrought. A tale that hinges on an invention of Mr. Cullum's fertile brain, a submersible merchantman that by plunging beneath the waves can escape the attacks of the modern commerce destroyers, a vessel that will revolutionize submarine warfare. A member of the British Cabinet, the head of an English ship-building firm, a Polish inventor and his daughter, a Prussian military officer, and a band of German spies are the chief actors. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 22 ozs.) $1.35

The Night-Riders. The scene is a western cattle ranch with a thrilling plot that swings along with a singleness of purpose never even approached in Mr. Cullum's previous stories. Without break or digression the intense action sweeps the reader along powerless to resist. Reader and hero are whirled to the solution of a mystery which has baffled and terrorized the cattle owners for years. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 26 ozs.) $1.35

The One-Way Trail. A story of the rolling prairies, in which men and women live a life of intense vigor and excitement. The action centers around a little mongrel village, with its curious mingling of good and bad elements, in which is worked out a tremendously dramatic story of a girl who makes a foolish choice and suffers for it. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 26 ozs.) $1.35

The Sheriff of Dyke Hole. A powerful story of the untamed forces on the borders of civilization. The Sheriff is a new character in fiction. He typifies physical strength, absolute fearlessness, unrelenting bitterness toward the coward and the sneak; yet equally does he stand for genial friendliness, good fellowship, loving protection of the weak and defenseless. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 26 ozs.) $1.35

*The Son of His Father. The story has a refreshing, outdoor quality, the scene being laid in the coal regions of Montana. Gordon Carbhoy is the son of a railroad magnate, and at the age of twenty-four he is a hundred thousand dollars in debt. This his father expects to pay until the boy proposes that five thousand dollars be given him with which to "make good." Gordon wants this amount and guarantees that in six months he will be financially able to pay his own debts. The magnate accepts his son's proposition and Gordon leaves for the Northwest. How he proves himself the true son of his father and wins a fortune, and a pretty girl as well, forms a story of unflagging interest. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 22 ozs.) $1.35

The Trail of the Axe. This is a breezy Western story, full of energy, fresh air and men and women who do things. Through it all runs the sweet and tender love story of Betty and Dave—Betty, the piquant, vivacious, altogether charming little school teacher; Dave, the big, muscular, determined, but tender-hearted lumberman. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 26 ozs.) $1.35

The Twins of Suffering Creek. A big story of a Montana mining camp, in which the friendship between men and a man's love for helpless children bear a large part. It is full of the action which is characteristic of the tense life that these rough men lead, and yet there is all through the story the pathetic simple romance of Scipio, and the delicious humor furnished by the twins and by the miners' well-meant but inexperienced efforts to care for them. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 26 ozs.) $1.35

The Watchers of the Plains. A story of Dakota in the 70's, depicting one of the Indian uprisings that were so frequent and so terrible in those early years. Rosebud, the heroine of the tale, is an English heiress who has been stolen by the Indians of the Rosebud Reservation, from whom she is rescued while still a mere child by the strong and manly Seth, a character no one can fail to admire. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 26 ozs.) $1.35

The Way of the Strong. The story of a man—in the gold fields of the Yukon and in the wheat fields of Canada. It shows a relentless spirit dominating in whatever he attempts. In his clash, as a capitalist, with labor; in his frenzied love for his wife; in his every mannerism, this man is a character which establishes, in modern fiction, a goal far beyond those set by contemporary writers. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 26 ozs.) $1.35

HOBSON, HARRIET MALONE

Jinks' Inside. Besides being a most entertaining story for old or young this is a remarkable study of the workings of a child's mind. Jinks is a boy of the gutter, a rough, untutored, tattered lad, but he has an "inside", as he calls it, that compels him to do or not to do certain things and is really exceedingly troublesome. What he suffers for the sake of his "inside" is very pathetic, and we cannot help loving the brave little fellow, who is a real hero at heart. 12mo. Illustrated. (Weight, 12 ozs.) $1.00

Whether one admits the author's premises or not, the book is well worth reading. 12mo. (Weight, 24 ozs.) $1.50

Among the topics discussed are: Cuba and National Policy; American Neutrality, 1895-1897; Abandonment of Non-Intervention Policy; Intervention; Transition from Neutrality to Belligerency; Relations of the Belligerents; Relations between Belligerents and Neutrals; Negotiations of Belligerents during War; Restoration of Peace; Interpretation and Fulfilment of Treaty of Peace.

BRITISH INTERESTS AND ACTIVITIES IN TEXAS, 1838–1846.

BY EPHRAIM D. ADAMS.

276 pages. 12mo. Price, $1.50.

This work is the result of extended research in the diplomatic archives of this country and of Great Britain. The author throws new and interesting light on the attitude of the English government toward Mexico, Texas, and the United States during the agitation for Texan independence and annexation. The book is a valuable contribution to the diplomatic questions discussed in part in the previous volume by Reeves on American Diplomacy under Tyler and Polk.

DIPLOMATIC NEGOTIATIONS OF AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICERS, 1778–1883.

By CHARLES OSCAR PAULLIN.

380 pages. 12mo. Price, $2.00.

This work presents a brief but comprehensive study of the service of the navy in the field of diplomacy, from John Paul Jones to Rear-Admiral Schufeldt. The naval officer as a diplomat was distinguished for simplicity, candor, and directness, and as his negotiations were for the most part with far distant oriental peoples, he was often the first to establish permanent relations with the United States.

THE DIPLOMACY OF THE WAR OF 1812.

By FRANK A. UPDYKE.

504 pages. 12mo. Price, $2.50.

Then, as now, the United States was the principal neutral power in a war which involved all Europe. The causes of the War of 1812 are clearly set forth. The Treaty of Ghent, the hundredth anniversary of which has recently been celebrated, is the central theme of the latter half of the volume. The negotiations leading to the signing of that treaty are clearly described. The terms of the treaty are examined as well as the questions in dispute which were omitted, and which continued to disturb the relations of the two countries for many years.

EARLY DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO.

By WILLIAM R. MANNING, PH.D.

418 pages. 12mo. Cloth, $2.25.

The writer shows in an interesting way how the British took advantage of our delay in establishing a permanent representative at the Mexican capital to promote British influence over the Mexican government, and how Poinsett's efforts to recover prestige for his government involved him in difficulties and in charges of intermeddling in the internal affairs of the country. The suspicions thus aroused, together with Poinsett's connection with the York Masons, thwarted his efforts to bring to a successful conclusion the treaty negotiations with which he was charged.

WEST FLORIDA, 1798–1813:
A STUDY OF AMERICAN FRONTIER DIPLOMACY.

By ISAAC JOSLIN COX.

(In press.)

THE EARLY DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND JAPAN, 1853–1865.

By PAYSON J. TREAT.

(In press.)

Under the above titles there will soon be published two additional volumes of the Albert Shaw Lectures on Diplomatic History which were delivered in the Johns Hopkins University in the years 1912 and 1917. Both volumes are in 12mo. and the format is the same as in Manning, Updyke, etc. The prices will also conform with these volumes.

THE HAGUE PEACE CONFERENCES OF 1899 AND 1907.

By JAMES BROWN SCOTT.

Solicitor for the Department of State and Technical Delegate to the Second Conference.

Two volumes. 8vo. Price, $5.00.

Vol. I. The Conferences, 887 pages. Vol. II. Documents, 548 pages.

These two substantial volumes furnish the most complete account of the Conferences which has appeared in English, and will undoubtedly be accepted as the definitive account of the work of those two great gatherings. The fact that the author was the Technical Delegate of the United States to the Second Conference and played a conspicuous part in its deliberations adds to the authoritative value of the treatise.

FOUR PHASES OF AMERICAN DEVELOPMENT.

FEDERALISM—DEMOCRACY—IMPERIALISM—EXPANSION.

By JOHN BASSETT MOORE.

218 Pages. Crown 8vo. Price, $1.50.

The lectures embraced in this volume are designed to sketch in clear and vivid outline the great movements by which the historical development of the United States is distinguished and to indicate the causes to which they were due. The order in which the several topics are discussed is not intended to denote a strict chronological succession; hence they are described as phases rather than as stages of development.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE EMPIRE OF JAPAN.

With the Addresses delivered at the meeting in the Johns Hopkins University, April 17, 1889, in Commemoration of its Promulgation.

48 pages. 16mo. Price in paper, 50 cents.

THE CREED OF THE OLD SOUTH.

By BASIL L. GILDERSLEEVE.

128 pages. Crown 8vo. $1.00.

The author in the last score of years has often been urged by his friends and sympathizers to reprint his article issued under this title in 1892, and which attracted wider attention than anything he has ever written. In this volume there is now published, in more accessible form, the author's record of views and impressions that may seem strange even to the survivors of that conflict. There is also included an essay on a cognate theme "A Southerner in the Peloponnesian War" which appeared in 1897.

DISTURBING ELEMENTS IN THE STUDY AND TEACHING OF POLITICAL ECONOMY.

By JAMES BONAR.

156 pages. 8vo. Price, $1.00.

This volume consists of five lectures delivered at the Johns Hopkins University in the spring of 1910. As the title suggests, the lectures are discourses not on economic error in general, but on the more subtle fallacies which are apt to invade the reasoning of trained economists in spite of learning and discipline. The lectures are distinguished by the scholarly tone and philosophical breadth that characterize Dr. Bonar's writings.

THE ECLOGUES OF BAPTISTA MANTUANUS.

Edited with Introduction and Notes, by

WILFRED P. MUSTARD.

156 pages. Crown 8vo. $1.50.

The text is based upon that of the first printed edition, of Mantua, 1498. The Introduction treats of the life of Mantuan, his family and friends, his works, his popularity, the wide use of his Eclogues as a school-book, and their influence upon Sixteenth-Century literature. The Notes are mainly devoted to the poet's use of his great classical models.

THE PISCATORY ECLOGUES OF JACOPO SANNAZARO.

Edited with Introduction and Notes, by

WILFRED P. MUSTARD.

94 pages. Crown 8vo. $1.00.

These Latin Poems are very clever imitations, or adaptations, of some of Virgil's Bucolics. The Virgilian conventions are so far modified that the pastoral eclogue becomes a piscatory eclogue, or an idyl of fishermen. The singers are no longer shepherds, but fishermen, and the scene is no longer Sicily, or Acadia, but the Bay of Naples.

Secondly, in the historic and linguistic Introduction, to furnish a succinct introduction to the whole Scottish literary period.

POEMA DE FERNAN GONCALEZ.

Nueva edicion, con introducción, notas y glosario.

POR C. CARROLL MARDEN.

282 pages. 8vo. Cloth, $2.50 net; Paper, $2.00.

The critical text of this old Spanish poem is based on the extant manuscripts and the early prose chronicles. In point of historical importance Fernan Gonçalez ranks with the Cid. The heroic character of the poem composed in his honor, the inherent interest of the subject matter, the many early legends which it sets forth, the fact that it is one of the very few extant specimens of early epic poetry—these considerations make the Poema de Fernan Gonçalez one of the most important monuments of Spanish literature.

LABORATORY EXERCISES IN PSYCHOLOGY.

BY KNIGHT DUNLAP,

PROFESSOR OF EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY IN THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY,

AND

GEORGE R. WELLS,

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF PSYCHOLOGY IN OBERLIN COLLEGE.

(To be published in the future.)

"This manual will be prepared to meet the demand for a text giving explicit directions for the carrying out of exercises (or practice "experiments"), covering a wide range. It is designed to introduce the student not only to important phenomena and methods, but also to apparatus of the type actually useful in psychological investigations. The instrumentation has been planned, therefore, with regard to the general requirements of laboratory work rather than with a view to primary inexpensiveness."

ENGLISH

AMERICAN LITERATURE

By J. C. Metcalf

THIS work presents in a clear and systematic manner the main facts and tendencies in American literature. Special emphasis has been given to movements and individual characteristics which seem distinctively American. A fuller treatment of Southern writers is to be found in this work than in other volume of similar size on American literature. In the last decade or two the recognition of the literary contribution of the South has steadily grown. Even yet, however, we have only imperfectly come to understand the far-reaching consequence in our literary development of the writings of men and women in the South since 1870; while the sterling worth of a few older authors is just now becoming more apparent as we are getting far enough away from the adverse conditions under which they wrote to see things in right perspective.

ENGLISH LITERATURE

By J. C. Metcalf

THE book is in form and content the outcome of Dr. Metcalf's signally successful experience as a teacher of English Litera ture, and therefore has the additional merit of having been written "with a definite set of individuals in view."

There are many illustrations of unusual interest and value, including a number that have never before appeared in an English Literature text.

Perhaps no text published in recent years has been more cordially welcomed than this book.

OUR LANGUAGE — By C. Alphonso Smith, Lida B. McMurry and F. T. Norvell

IN the preparation of this series it has been the aim of the authors (1) to interest the pupil by novel but vital illustrations, (2) to make him feel a pride in using good English, (3) to eliminate the dry-as-dust exercises that have so long been in vogue, and (4) to make the knowledge of the English language go hand in hand with the appreciation of English literature.

I LANGUAGE LESSONS

By Lida B. McMurry

THE treatment of the paragraph forms the backbone of the book from letter-writing to the end. The idea is developed gradually by means of stories in outline, unfinished stories, suggestive pictures, series of related pictures, outlines of letters, suggestions for descriptions, etc. As a rule, the thought is given so that the pupil may devote himself entirely to the form of expression. He is not required to rack his brain for an idea, and then devote his fagged energies to working it out.

The authors have been especially happy in the treatment of inaccuracies of speech. Twelve common errors are brought forward and dealt with in a way that is decidedly refreshing, if not unique. There's a delightful sensation in watching the correct phrase loom up to take the place of the incorrect.

And then there are the pictures—the wonderful story-telling pictures! Where will one find anything—in pictures—so charming to the children, so helpful and satisfying to the teacher?

204 pages; four full-pages pictures in colors; numerous pictures in black and white; price, 40 cents.

HOW TO TEACH OUR LANGUAGE—FIRST BOOK.

By Lida B. McMurry

PAPER; 30 pages. Price, 10 cents.

II LANGUAGE LESSONS AND GRAMMAR By C. Alphonso Smith

EVERY line of this book has been dictated by experience in the schoolroom, by long study of language problems, and by the desire to adapt all the material used to the needs and limitations of the pupils. To this end explanations are first given of each principle presented, and these are followed successively by apt illustrations, compact definitions, and practical exercises. Exercises in language alternate with simple interpretations of literature, the author believing that it is the duty of a book of this sort to attract the pupil to good literature as well as to drill him in correct language.

As in Part I, there is a constant appeal to the pupil's originality and to his power of imagination, the author realizing that no two pupils are alike, and that no exercises should be chosen that do not minister to the diverse needs of different individualities.

240 pages; price, 45 cents.

III GRAMMAR By C. Alphonso Smith

THIS book has been prepared, not for the linguist, to whom grammar is a science, but for the child, to whom it should be simply the means of teaching him how to express his thoughts clearly and correctly.

The book is intended for the upper grammar grades.

263 pages; price, 50 cents.

SPELLING

COMMON WORDS
COMMONLY MISSPELLED

By Bruce R. Payne

DR. BRUCE PAYNE, after fourteen years' experience as a teacher in high schools, colleges and summer schools, became convinced of three things:

First.—That spelling is a much more difficult subject than it is usually regarded.

Second.—That students of high-school training misspell a very large number of common words.

Third.—That the study of difficult or unusual words does not necessarily help one in the spelling of common words, and that instead of forcing a student through a list of difficult words rarely used in order that he may find ten such words which he has misspelled, it is far better to find out as nearly as possible what his frequent errors are and restrict his study to overcoming these.

Acting upon these convictions, Dr. Payne invited five thousand teachers to send him a list of common words commonly misspelled by their students.

With these lists before him he selected with infinite pains, 2,375 of the most common words most commonly misspelled.

Out of these words he has built a Speller—the most unique, the most modern, and, for its particular purpose, certainly the most helpful Speller ever produced. It is a book that will gladden the heart of every teacher in the high school and upper grammar grades, for it is the one book such teachers have been wishing for.

Most spellers are built on a theory. But in spelling we face a condition, not a theory. This Speller is built on practice. It is the result of the daily school-room experiences of thousands of teachers scattered over a wide territory.

For the high school and upper grammar grades.

WORD STUDIES

By Edwin S. Sheppe

THE purpose of this series of Spellers is (1) to enable the beginner to recognize readily and to pronounce accurately the various word forms found in his reader; (2) to teach the spelling, meaning and use of words necessary for a sound education, and (3) to bridge the gap between the spelling book and the dictionary.

The phonic drill-lists in the first part of the book are intended primarily to aid the beginner in giving to each letter or combination of letters in a word its proper sound value, and thus to teach him to pronounce words at sight. The numerous and varied exercises in syllabication and accent, in dictionary practice, in marking letters diacritically, in classifying words, in discriminating between synonyms, in the study of prefixes, suffixes, and roots, are intended to give the pupil an insight into the structure and meaning of words and to make him understand the value and use of a dictionary.

READING

THE CHILD'S WORLD READERS

By Sarah Withers,
Hetty S. Browne,
William Knox Tate.

THE primary aim of the authors was to develop to the very highest possible degree the ideas and methods which have been used by the most successful teachers of reading in recent years, and which are likely to be used by the most successful teachers of reading for many years to come.

In other words, they aimed to produce a series of Readers that would help teachers to realize their high ambition to teach reading more intelligently and successfully than it had ever been taught before.

With this purpose in their minds it was natural that the plan which they adopted should call for the development of the ideas and methods chosen through the medium of the freshest, most attractive and most suitable literature obtainable.

1. They determined that the literature to be used should cover a wider range than the literature of other Readers, it should be of greater variety so that it would touch the child's life at as many points as possible.

2. They determined that nothing should be used simply because it was literature, but that every selection should be made with a view to meeting an actual need and in accordance with the demands of the child's age, tastes and experience. They would not use a story that did not accord with these demands, however beautiful it might be. They would not, for example, use a story that would harrow the child's feelings. While one of the authors was "trying out" a dog story, in which the dog died, a little child threw up her hands and cried: "Oh, please don't let him die. I can't bear for that little dog to die." That story you will find in the Child's World; but you will find that the authors have been kind, both to the little child and to the little dog.

3. They determined to identify literature with life—to tie up literature with child's life—the object being not only to connect the child's school interests with his home interests but to vitally connect literature with his life for the sake of the years to come. The story in the First Reader entitled "A Rainy Day" got so close to a little fellow's heart that he sat down and wrote to a friend, "I am going to play doctor some time like that little boy did in the Reader."

4. They determined to use literature that would give the child so much pleasure that he would want to read just for the pleasure it gave him. If a child does not learn to read for pleasure he is not going to read any more than he can help while at school and he is not likely to read at all in after life.

5. They determined to use freely but intelligently every available device for increasing the attractiveness of literature. They felt that more should be made of humor, especially delicate touches of humor; that dramatization should be introduced as early as possible; that old and new—as, ancient myths and modern scientific achievements—should be tied together wherever practicable in a way that would deepen interest in both; that the best of the old stories should be presented in a new setting.

6. They determined that the literature to be used should have the highest ethical value not only for manhood but for childhood, and that as a majority of the children leave school after five or six years much of it should be of an immediately useful character. They were especially impressed with the importance of providing for the Fifth Reader grade stories of achievement to encourage and stimulate the ambition of the thousands of children who have to leave school at the end of this period, many of whom are compelled to start in life in the face of almost overwhelming difficulties.

7. Finally, they determined that their Readers should be illustrated by pictures that actually illustrate, and that every picture should help to awaken and develop the child's artistic sense. In other words the picture should be made by an artist and not by a carpenter.

An interesting booklet showing how the authors have worked out these ideas in the series will be mailed on request.

COUNTRY LIFE READERS

By Cora Wilson Stewart

THE establishment of moonlight schools in fifteen States has created a demand for a series of readers especially adapted to their needs. The textbooks now in use in evening elementary schools were largely prepared to meet the needs of our city foreign population. The time has come when the people attending the moonlight schools must have textbooks which deal with the problems of rural life, and which reflect rural life.

The Country Life Readers have been planned with this pressing need in view.

AGRICULTURE

By A. M. Soule and E. H. L. Turpin

A COMMON SCHOOL textbook which aims to bring the child in contact with nature, to have him see for himself how crop plants live and develop under various conditions, and to learn by observation and by simple experiment the relation of the soil and its elements to crop growing.

After the essential facts about the soil and the plant are given, the subject of soil improvement is taken up, and tillage, crop rotation, legumes, manure, and commercial fertilizers are discussed. The clear, full treatment of this subject makes the book especially valuable in every section where is a "run down" farm and a boy who is some day to be a farmer. There is a chapter on Field, Orchard, and Garden Crops, and one on Farm Animals. Under the subject of "Crop Enemies and Friends" weeds and harmful fungi and insects, and methods of controlling them are discussed. There are sections about good roads, farm tools, trees, and school gardens.

In the Appendix are useful tables and suggestions for work on special subjects which may be desired in certain sections and grades.

The book is profusely illustrated with pictures which really illustrate and explain the text.

LESSON PLAN BOOK

By Harris Hart

THIS Lesson Plan Book is offered with the hope of aiding and encouraging teachers in the more careful preparation of their daily work. It is designed primarily for teachers of English grammar, literature, geography, history, physiology, and civil government.

The aim has been to reduce the lesson plan to the simplest possible form. The book has the virtue of allowing great freedom in the treatment of the lesson, being arranged for the recitation by general subject, or by the topical method, or by the development plan.

There are one hundred pages—enough for a term of five months.

Price, 25 cents.

This is a catalogue of the Kenedy Publications only. Our stock includes the Catholic books of all publishers, American and Foreign.

Athlete, The. The Story of a Catholic College Boy. 12mo. Cloth. 75 cents.
A book of unusual interest. It is a story of college life and of the boys who figure there; boys of all sorts, good and bad, with their virtues and their petty vices. The incidents pictured are true to life; the story is not overdone, and is sure to meet the favor of the boy readers for whom, especially, it is written.

African Fabiola, The. Translated by Rt. Rev. Mgr. Joseph O'Connell, D.D. 12mo. Cloth. Net, 50 cents.
The story of the Life of St. Perpetua, who together with her slave Felicitas suffered Martyrdom at Carthage in the year 203. One of the most moving events in the annals of the Church.

Agnes of Rome, Life of. 18mo. Cloth. Net, 25 cents.
About three hundred years after Our Lord was born there lived in Rome a young girl, the daughter of parents illustrious by their nobility, but still more illustrious for their sanctity. This maiden was Agnes, whose name signifies lamb in Latin, and chaste in Greek. As a presage of martyrdom and title of innocence it seemed to indicate her future. At the age of fourteen, her beauty attracted the son of the prefect, who proposed marriage. This she refused, but he persisted in his suit, and finally his passion turning to hate, Agnes was hurried to the public circus, and there after repeated torture, yielded up her pure, young life. Though short this life will prove most attractive reading.

Alchemist's Secret, The. By Isabel Williams. 12mo. Cloth. Net, 50 cents.
This collection of short stories is not of the sort written simply for amusement; they have their simple, direct teaching, and they lead us to think of and to pity the sorrows and trials of others rather than our own.

Alias Kitty Casey. By Mary Williams. 12mo. Cloth. Net, 50 cents.
Kitty Casey is in reality Catherine Carew, a girl threatened with misfortune, who in an endeavor to seclude herself, and at the same time enjoy the advantages of the country in summer time, accepts a menial position in a hotel, taking the position of waitress refused by her maid, Kitty Casey. The story is well written, and the romance is cleverly worked up.

Aloysius, St., Life of. By Edwad Healey Thompson. 12mo. Cloth
Net, 50 cents.

An extraordinary hero of sanctity St. Aloysius is, at the same time, an emplar which each of us may copy, albeit imperfectly, in the regulation of daily actions. It thus becomes a matter of importance to know all the de of his short and saintly career, and these are here presented with an exacti a grace, and an earnestness, which mark a labor of holy love.

Net, 50 cents.

There is nothing strange, nothing startling in the career of St. Alphon

Alvira: or the Heroine of Vesuvius. By Rev. A. J. O'Reilly. 12
Cloth. Net, 50 cents.

There is enough sensational matter between the covers of this book to the most exacting novel readers. The story, in brief, is that of a young girl assumes the dress of a man, kills her father, enters the army, rises to rank of an officer, takes part in battle, and dies—a Saint. While to the fastid and scrupulous this may seem unreasonable, yet, in fact, there are as g names among the penitent Saints of the Church as among those whose bapti innocence was never dimmed. The lives of the penitent saints serve as shi beacons to guide us in the tempest of life. Withal we believe this story Alvira will afford interest and amusement, and point a moral to a host of Cath readers.

reaking with the Past; or Catholic Principles Abandoned at the Reformation. With a Preface by His Eminence John Cardinal Farley. By His Eminence Francis Aidan Cardinal Gasquet. 16 mo. Cloth. Net, 60 cents.

The well-known Benedictine and head of the Biblical Commission is the foremost authority on the history of the English Reformation. His Sermons, based on authentic historical documents, prove that the doctrines of the Church had been reconstructed under Lutheran and Calvanistic influences, and that central beliefs of the Church had been rejected.

If Christian unity is to be something more than sentiment the facts presented in this volume must be faced frankly and with courage.

The whole argument is simple in its perfect clarity; and zealous Catholics are recommended to put the book into the hands of their Episcopalian friends.

Burden of Honor, The. By Christine Faber. 12mo. Cloth. 75 cents

There is a purpose in the writings of this well-known novelist. They are all based on a very definite object, the pointing of a moral and the triumph of virtue. This is admirably worked out in this story, The Burden of Honor. The plot and its unfolding are evidences of the finished art of the writer and as usual an air of mystery surrounds her situations from the start. Throughout, the story is strong and the interest is well sustained.

Much has been written of the troublesome times in Kentucky from 1860 t 1865, but seldom has a Catholic author taken this historic half decade as materia for a story. Miss Minogue is a resident of Kentucky, and in Cardome present a clear picture of the confusion and uncertainty which existed in that state.

haff and Wheat. A Few Gentle Flailings. By Francis P. Donnelly, S.J. 16mo. Cloth. Net, 60 cents.

The same brevity of articles; the same vivacity of manner; the same spicy variety of thought as in "Mustard Seed," by the same author, with new lessons for life; new failings for gentle flailing; new common sense in uncommon sentences. Some of the Chaff and Wheat: I Know Just How You Feel; Passing It Along; All for the Best; "You 'Shall', I Won't"; Harping on One String; Will You Give Up?; If I Were You; Are You Doing It Yourself?; Saints Made While You Wait; The Breaking Point, and thirty other papers.

Beneath the light chaff will be found much good, wholesome wheat. The threshing and winnowing is meant to be ever so gentle, but should a sharper stroke of the flail come now and again, be sure that it was aimed not at the reader, but at that unpalatable outer casing which hides from one's full appreciation and enjoyment the sweet, golden yield everyone knows to be his.

Come Rack! Come Rope! By Mgr. Robert Hugh Benson. 12mo. Clo Net, $1.50.

Taking the reign of Elizabeth as his time, and the persecution of Catho as his theme, Mgr. Benson has given us fiction which is intimately allied w fact. The picture of England in the throes of a religious persecution is m vivid, and is portrayed with the master touch of the literary artist, the finis craftsman, who carries us along, now with a deep, chaste pathos, again with admirable poise of conversation, cultured and natural; and then with the q heroism of the martyrs, in which power and virility and God-given strength combined with perfect self-possession. Not the least merit is the broad cha displayed for those who have not the strength of their convictions—the cha of His Church, always hopeful. So graphic is the story throughout that i difficult to select any portion of it for particular praise. The whole book beautifully written, and we are inclined to place it at the head of Mgr. Bens historical novels.

In e state in the Union there are staunch admirers of his life and conduct, and t of these this record of his labors and virtues will be welcome as a memorial a loving remembrance.

The great actions of a Bishop with jurisdiction were not his. He known rather for those gentle and fine qualities which make the Cath gentleman in any walk in life. But through his consecration as a Bishop he them a lustre and glory which must invite imitation and uplift in all who s them.

Dark Rosaleen. A story of Ireland to-day. By M. E. Francis. 12 Cloth, colored jacket. Net, $1.35.

This new story, by one of the foremost writers of the day, should fi host of readers. From the opening chapter, which introduces us to the g Dr. Bodkin, the kindly, unselfish and noble Honor Burke and the infants, P

Burke and Hector McTavish, we are fascinated by the author's ability to compel our interest in her characters and to make our acquaintance with them so intimate that even their casual actions, so splendidly woven into the plot, must be followed with the closest attention. Alexander McTavish, a Presbyterian, whose health is failing from working in the mills at Belfast, has engaged as a gardener with a minister of the Established Church in the Connemara section of Ireland. His wife, a delicate woman, finds a sympathetic neighbor in Honor Burke, the wife of a small farmer, and their children soon become inseparable companions. The first part of the story gives a picture of the early life of these children, full of dramatic situations, and of the fear of McTavish that his boy would be estranged from the religion of his father. On this account he sells out his belongings and goes back to Belfast.

The second part opens with the unexpected return of Hector McTavish, now a skilful mechanic, after an absence of thirteen years, during which he has not heard from the Burkes. Patsy Burke, the playmate of his boyhood, is also coming home to say his first Mass in the parish chapel, and their meeting adds to the joy of the fond parents. Hector is a guest under the roof which was so long a home to him, and after a few days departs with Father Pat and his beautiful sister, Norah, to visit the fair at Galway. Father Pat is to return to his church some distance away. The delayed return of Norah, which hastens her father's death, and the unusual circumstances leading up to her marriage with Hector are full of dramatic situations handled with exquisite skill.

In the third and concluding part, tragedy and pathetic events follow in rapid succession when the newly-married couple begin housekeeping at Belfast. It is here that the early training of the two at once begins to divide the household, and their irreconcilable religious differences play such an important part in its disruption. The author does not hesitate to carry the story to its logical and harassing conclusion, but we can well afford to sacrifice the momentary joy that a happy ending always brings for the sake of the pleasure in having a true and thrilling picture of Irish life, brimful of salutary lessons and handled with descriptive power that compels our admiration.

Deer Jane." By Isabel Cecilia Williams. 12mo. Cloth. Net, 50 cents.

A simple tale very pleasantly told. It makes no effort at delineation of character or problem of plot, and is truly healthful, invigorating, and moral. After the hothouse vaporing issuing every month from the press, it is refreshing in its simple pathos and expression of true feeling. All who enjoy a clean, wholesome and stirring tale ought to read "Deer Jane."

De Smet, S.J., The Life of Father (1801-1873). By E. Laveille, S.J. Authorized Translation by Marian Lindsay, with a preface by Charles Coppens, S.J. 8vo. Cloth, gilt top. With portrait, five illustrations, and map. Boxed. Net, $2.75.

The life of Father De Smet has many merits. Its first, and perhaps its most attractive one, is its simplicity, for it relates, in the simplest of English, the tale of a priest who was humble before all things, and obedient to the very end of a long and useful career. It portrays clearly and distinctly, the thrilling history of a missionary who undertook the most painful toil for the sake of souls. It tells of the achievements of an apostle who went forth among savages with no weapon save the cross of Christ in his hands, and a burning love for God's abandoned ones in his heart.

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the arrival of Father De Smet in South Dakota was solemnly observed by the Sioux Indians during the month of August, 1915. No tale of fiction has ever been able to convey such magnificent courage, such splendid strength, as are shown forth in the biography of this Catholic Priest. From the day of his first journey into the wilderness until the last day of the last journey love of souls was his overmastering passion. For souls he faced heat and cold, hardships, hunger and death. For souls he made himself "all things to all men," and succeeded beyond the wildest expectations. Again and again he sallied forth, and when he set his foot where no other white man dared to tread, the savages flashed the joyous news of his coming from hill to hill with blazing fires lighted in his honor.

Yes, as one review has it, "The life of Father De Smet reads like a novel, but one so realistic, so thrilling with interest that you cannot tear yourself away from it." Father De Smet labored forty-three years among the Indians. To gain help for his poor charges he traversed the ocean nineteen times; he traveled by land over 87,000 leagues. "The principal charm of the volume here presented," says Father Coppens, "lies in the graphic sketches of the missionary's trave and labors." His intervention between the Government and army officials a the cruelly wronged redmen was efficacious when nothing else was of any ava

This book is rightly called important, for it contains the clearest of exp sitions of Catholic history; it brings the days of the preceding century very clo to us, and shows us what sacrifices were made by priests and people to save t Catholic faith and the Catholic soul. Stirring and strong, one marvels at t men and women who gave themselves and all that they possessed to God, th all might set their feet in the way of truth.

Early Steps in the Fold. Instructions for Converts and Inquirers. Rev. F. M. De Zulueta, S.J. 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25.

The author's main purpose is to supplement the instructions given to a vert prior to his reception into the Church. Such instructions may easily enc have been confined chiefly to the articles of essential belief and the prac obligations which bind all Catholics under pain of mortal sin. The filling of the convert's defective knowledge by means of sermons, catechetical inst tions, missions, spiritual Retreats, etc., is often a tedious and unsatisfac proceeding; and Father Zulueta's volume is designed to impart the requ information more speedily and with more system and order. That his de has been worked out with notable thoroughness, a brief examination of the t renders quite evident; and a closer scrutiny of individual chapters makes it c that its pages may be scanned with profit by born Catholics as well as re converts. The utility of the volume is increased by a table of contents, a g index, and by frequent marginal references.

The Education of Character. By Reverend M. S. Gillet, O.P. Translated by Benjamin Green. Preface by Father Bernard Vaughan, S.J. 12mo. Cloth. Net, *$1.00.

In a day when there is a growing tendency to leave character to look after itself, and to batten on noxious foodstuffs with little or no building properties in them, this book awakens the spirit of hope, and helps establish that hope.

Father Gillet, the distinguished Dominican, has provided a plentiful supply of materials for the formation and perfection of the Christian character. Here, ready to hand, will be found all those properties and accessories which help to build up character in our rising generation.

While the subject dealt with in this volume has, in one form or another, been treated by philosophers and moralists of practically all ages, no serious reader of Father Gillet's pages will declare that his work is superfluous. Its raison d'être is the author's conviction that in books dealing with character-formation, character-building, etc., ingenious psychologists and serious moralists have hitherto erred in their methods. Psychologists have confined themselves too exclusively to the psycho-physiological side, ignoring the moral aspect of the problem to be solved; whereas the moralists, on the other hand, have overmuch disregarded psychological sources.

The present work is an attempt at a synthesis of the two systems—a synthesis in which due account is taken of both grace and nature. The chapters on The Relations of Grace to the Passions; Egoism and Altruism; Sensuality; The Laws of Habit; and The Effect on Character of Moral, Intellectual, and Supernatural Habits, are especially noteworthy, and it will repay the studious perusal of the thoughtful reader.

In these Sonnets one finds much thoughtful contemplation on a variety of themes, the religious predominating. The author displays a special aptitude for the carefully chosen word. It is the scholarly poet who is here presented; one with an understanding of his mission and with the ability to make a message understandable. The lyrics time and again evidence a delicacy of touch, characteristic, indeed, of the verse generally. In all his writings the author makes his appeal on the line of essential things, and by them one is brought close to the joys and sorrows of life, its possibilities and its ideals.

erald de Lacey's Daughter. An Historical Romance of Colonial Days. By Anna T. Sadlier. Attractively bound in cloth. 450 pages. 12mo. Frontispiece and jacket in colors. Net, $1.35.

No Catholic writer of fiction in English is more widely known and none more deservedly popular than the author of this book. She has given to the public many very good novels, but the one here presented will probably add more to her fame than anything bearing her name. For the time of her story, she has chosen one of the most interesting periods in our Country's history, that immediately following the accession to the English throne of William of Orange; a time of bitter memories for those of the Faith, filled with deadly persecution, and with glorious heroism. The scene of the story is Manhattan, early New York, where we are introduced to many striking characters; the sturdy Dutch, an overbearing English governor and his followers, and, in marked contrast, the sweet, courageous heroine and her father. It is a strong, virile story, brimful of action, and highly dramatic in parts. The world loves a lover, we are told, and the love scenes so charmingly depicted here will appeal to every heart, while the tale of brutal persecution that runs through the whole story will stir the blood of every Catholic. It is a book well worth reading.

lories of the Sacred Heart. By Cardinal Manning. 12mo. Cloth. Net, 50 cents.

In this volume the eminent author has confined himself to the dogmatic side of the devotion, for he believed that when divine truth is fully and duly apprehended it generates devotion; that one cause of shallowness in the spiritual life is a superficial apprehension of the dogma of the Incarnation; and that one divine purpose in the institution and diffusion of the devotion of the Sacred Heart in these last times is to reawaken in the minds of men the consciousness of their personal relation to a Divine Master.

Goddess of Ghosts, The. By Rev. C. C. Martindale, S.J. 12mo. Board Cloth back. Net, *$1.00.

Swinburne, and others, used to say that the Greek and Pagan life was alo full, sunlit, and eligible, while Christianity made the world cold and grey. Fath Martindale suggests, in these stories that the Pagan cult of life ran out, ultimatel into melancholy and disappointment, and that the supernatural transfigures a completes what is natural without despising or spoiling it. In the story whi gives the book its name, he shows most clearly how even the best aspiratio of the old world were as ghosts compared to Catholic reality. "What becam of Elinor," i. e., how far Catholicism can mate with the new modern Paganism, does not explicitly tell. He does not sermonize nor write learned archaeology these light and imaginative stories; they have humor as well as picturesquenes and in some the setting is purely modern.

Holy Communion. By Mgr. de Gibergues. 16mo. Cloth. Net, *90 cents.

The Bishop of Valence's book is a beautiful commentary on our Holy Father's late decrees concerning the frequency of approaching the Blessed Euchrist. "Holy Communion" in its English dress is a translation from the French of the thirteenth thousand, which large circulation is an eloquent proof that the work has appealed to very many. Mgr. de Gibergues divides his treatise into fifteen chapters of an average of twelve pages each. He devotes five chapters to explaining the various effects of Holy Communion and the dispositions it requires on our part. In three chapters he lays down rules for the remote and proximate preparation and for thanksgiving. This part of the work is beyond all praise; indeed, we have never read anything on the subject that we prefer to Bishop de Gibergues' thoughts, while the model thanksgiving he exhibits is a little mine of pious effusions and beautiful exposition. Still he is far from wishing to bind any one to a stereotyped form; on the contrary, he lays down the proposition that the best thanksgivings are our own. "But let me here repeat what I have already said of the preparation: 'the best thanksgivings are your own.'"

The book will be of use to all who are accustomed to practice meditation. Priests who may require a ferverino for First Communicants or Sodalists will find many helpful thoughts in its pages. The translation is in excellent English, flowing and idiomatic.

Home for Good. By Mother Mary Loyola. Introduction by Father Herbert Thurston, S.J. 12mo. Cloth. Postage extra. Net, $1.25.

"Home for Good" is written in the same attractive style as Mother Loyola's other books, which have become so popular. It is intended as a book of religious reading and instruction to develop in young ladies the Catholic duties and practices to which they have been accustomed during their Convent life. Mother Loyola certainly knows girls, and in none of her books has she shown this insight as regards their character more than in the present volume. The instructions are meant to cover a most critical period in the young girl's life—namely, the years following her departure from school. The subjects touched upon pertain to a young woman's home duties as well as to her social obligations. Books and friends, works of charity, temptations, worldliness, vocation,—all are presented in a concrete way, and are illustrated by examples which bear Mother Loyola's lessons home. We commend this book to mothers and teachers as well as to the young girl who is "home for good."

Imitation of Christ. An English translation, reproducing the Rhythm of the original. Revised, corrected and edited by Father Elder Mullan, S.J. 18mo. Cloth, red edges. †75 cents Flexible leather, gilt edges. †$1.25

With the exception of the Bible, the Imitation of Christ is, perhaps the most widely read spiritual book ever published. It is divided into four parts or books. (1) Useful admonitions for a spiritual life; (2) Admonitions concerning spiritual things; (3) Of interior consolation; (4) Of the Blessed Sacrament. This translation, made by an unknown writer, was chosen because it reproduces well the spirit of the original, even so far as to copy its rhythmical structure, and so invites to meditation, as the original was clearly meant to do. It is believed that this present English text may be considered more thorough and up-to-date than was needed for the purpose intended.

Initiation. By Mgr. Robert Hugh Benson. 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50.

In this book Monsignor Benson has given us a problem novel—but with a difference. It is a study in psychology, both natural and religious—a moving story of the way in which the things of the body and the things of the spirit interact upon each other. From pain and suffering there is a natural shrinking; to the uninitiated pain is a mystery at once inexplicable and abhorrent. And yet we have it on the highest authority that this pain and suffering of body and mind are the great purifiers of the soul, and that he who loses his life shall find it. Men are brought to God by divers paths, and God fulfils Himself in many ways. One of those, the great highway of the Cross, is that which Christ preached and by which He travelled, and it need be no surprise if many are marked out in the dispositions of Providence to tread it. This teaching of other-worldliness is a sealed book to multitudes, whilst by too many, to whom it is familiar, it is either ignored or forgotten. Here, however, we have it set forth in a story so masterly and minute in its delineation that we read with devouring interest; and as we read we are impressed with the truth, which Francois Coppée found and so delicately portrayed from his own experience, of "La Bonne Souffrance"—that suffering is not all loss, but can be, and is meant to be, happy in its tremendous results. There are few novels that in any way compare with it.

esus All Holy. By Father Alexander Gallerani, S.J. 16mo. Cloth. Net, 50 cents. Leatherette. Net, $1.00.

These are not what might be called controversial, but there is much sound reasoning in them. One does not need to have a sensible love of God to have interest awakened, but as one proceeds one will find both knowledge of God and love of God to grow perceptibly. They are most delightful books, containing encouragement for the faint-hearted and relief for the scrupulous. Father Gallerani's reasoning is so simple and clear, and his manner of making his statements so gentle, that the reader is rewarded with most satisfying consolation.
